ASSASSIN FIRES TWO BULLETS INTO STOLYPIN

Russ Premier Attacked While Attending Gala Performance at Opera House.

DEED OF THE ASSASSIN WITNESSED BY THE CZAR

It Is Said That the Premier's Wounds Are Mortal—Stolypin Was One of the Best Hated Men in Russia Because of His Cruel and Unjust Methods.

Kiev, Russia, September 14.—The Russian premier, P. A. Stolypin, was attacked while attending a gala performance at the opera tonight. He was wounded twice by his assailant. One bullet entered his hand, while the other penetrated the body, grazing the liver and lodging in the spine. It is reported that the premier's wounds are mortal.

Emperor Nicholas was present in the theater at the time. The premier's assailant was arrested.

The two bullets were fired from behind by a lawyer named Bogrof. The audience tried to lynch the assassin. Some reports have it that a musician also was wounded.

The minister of finance, M. Kokovsoff, was sitting beside the premier at the time of the attack.

Life Attempted Before.

This is not the first attempt made against the life of Premier Stolypin. When Governor of Saratov, in 1905, three shots were fired at him, but without effect; on August 25, 1906, a bomb was thrown while Stolypin, then premier, was holding a public reception at his country house on Aptekarsky Island. The premier was slightly wounded. Thirty-two persons were killed and a still larger number wounded, including the premier's 15-year-old daughter and his 3-year-old son.

At that time there was a reign of terrorism in many parts of Russia.

When Stolypin accepted the premiership in July, 1906, he was perfectly conscious of his danger. He remarked at the time:

"I have no doubt that attempts will be made upon my life, but I hope that order will be restored and stability established in Russia before they are successful."

Stolypin Well Hated.

As Stolypin outlined the policy of the government, it was to be one of "strong-handed reform." He promptly issued orders to the provisional authorities, directing them to spare no effort to prevent disturbances. As minister of the interior prior to taking over the premiership, he was assailed in the duma, in making his first speech, with cries of "Murderer!" and "Assassin!" when he defended the alleged illegal acts of police officials and provincial governors in the suppression of disorder.

The retaliatory steps which he took against the terrorists and liberals alike, won the detestation of the advanced parties and the support of the administration. "Stolypin's necktie" became the synonym for the hangman's noose throughout Russia. He quarreled frequently with the duma and was victorious in his disputes with that body, owing to the confi-

ANGRY GOVERNORS CALL ON U. S. SUPREME COURT TO CHECK FEDERAL JUDGES

MAIL SERVICE AGAIN REDUCED

Thirty-Foot Cars Between Atlanta and Montgomery.

Two Men Will Have to Do the Work of Four---Twenty Mail Clerks Saved by the Change Will Be Transferred to Montgomery.

To cut in half the mail service between Atlanta and Montgomery—that's the order from Postmaster General Hitchcock, which goes into effect about the first of next month.

The present 40-foot cars are to be abandoned for 30-foot compartments, two clerks will attempt to do the work that four are now finding too much for them, and twenty-odd clerks now living here and running between this city and Montgomery will be ordered to Montgomery to work between that city and New Orleans.

In other words, something over twenty men who are now working mails between Atlanta and Montgomery will be taken off this work entirely, their places left unfilled, and they will be put to work on mails between Montgomery and New Orleans.

Order Has Been Issued.

No such official announcement has been made yet, as a matter of course, but the order has been issued by Postmaster General Hitchcock, nevertheless. It is to take effect on October 5, it is said, and judging from conditions that already exist will make it a

CANADA STIRRED TO BOILING POINT

By the Fight Being Waged Over Reciprocal Pact.

The Result Will Be Decided in One Week—The Fight the Most Hotly Contested in the History of the Dominion of Canada.

Toronto, Ont., September 14.—Candidates all over the Dominion of Canada entered the contest for the reciprocity sweepstakes at noon today. The result will be decided one week hence.

The political fight in Canada now is at fever heat, and is without question the most keenly contested known in the Dominion since the confederation.

It is conceded reciprocity will sweep Alberta and Saskatchewan and split Manitoba. On the other hand British Columbia probably will return seven conservatives.

The Real Battleground.

Perhaps the real battleground is Ontario, because the rural vote in dozens of class constituencies goes strongly for the liberal policy. R. L. Borden will not be able to make large enough gains to defeat reciprocity. The manufacturing centers are already strongly conservative with few exceptions, and these latter are not numerous enough to offset a solid or nearly solid rural vote in favor of the pact.

In Quebec, always the stronghold of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the conservatives take heart from the vigorous battle which is being waged by Bourassa, and which it is feared will split the province, the nationalists putting up a fierce campaign against their old-time idol because of his naval policy. It is the only part of the country in which reciprocity is not the supreme issue.

In the Maritime Provinces.

In the maritime provinces which return thirty-five members or between one-seventh and one-sixth of the total membership of the Canadian houes of commons, there probably will be slight change. Reciprocity appeals strongly to the inhabitants of that section, but it is not the only issue and the party advocating the agreement already holds 26 of the 35 seats, an increase on the liberal side to 30, or on the other hand, a conservative increase to 14, are both reasonable calculations.

Mr. Borden, the opposition leader, must change the political complexion of twenty-two seats to wipe out Sir Wilfrid's majority.

Executives of Sovereign States Resent the Decision in the Minnesota Rate Case.

ACTION OF THE GOVERNORS ESTABLISHES A PRECEDENT

Committee, Headed by Gov. Harmon, Named to Protest to Supreme Court Against the Invasion of States' Rights by Federal Courts—Gov. O'Neal Led Fight for Protest.

Spring Lake, N. J., September 14.—Governors of twenty-five states of the union voted this afternoon to unite in protest to the United States supreme court against what they consider an invasion of the states' rights by federal courts.

The decisions of Judge Sanborn in the Minnesota rate case is the particular invasion to which the governors object. By their action they establish a precedent in American history.

Governor Harmon Heads Committee.

Judson Harmon, governor of Ohio, and former attorney general of the United States, will head a committee of protest. His colleagues will be Herbert S. Hadley, governor of Missouri, and Chester H. Aldrich, governor of Nebraska. The motion to appoint such a committee to voice the views of the conference was made by Governor Emmett O'Neal, of Alabama, which placed the membership at five. Action was declared unanimous, although Governor William W. Kitchin, of North Carolina, the twenty-sixth delegate, who alone opposed it, did so, he said, solely because it would be a departure from precedent.

Governor Harmon supplied the original suggestion for the plan, according to Governor O'Neal. In the sharp debate which followed the measure's introduction, Governor Harmon took no part.

Governor Aldrich Condemns Court.

Introduction of the motion was entirely unexpected by the majority of the delegates. Governor Aldrich's ringing denunciation of what he termed the invasion of the functions and rights of the states by the minor federal courts, discussed during the forenoon session, provoked enthusiastic applause and was followed in the afternoon by an address by Governor Francis E. McGovern, of Wisconsin upon the same topic. With the subject fresh in mind, the governors debated the question for a hour or more before Governor O'Neal introduced his resolution.

During his speech, Governor Aldrich referred in terms of condemnation to the decision of Justice Sanborn of the United States circuit court, in the Minnesota rate case. He explained that the point of the decision was that the state's intrastate law was unconstitutional because it had not been enforced without interfering in its operation with the authority of the interstate commerce commission. This, he thought, was clearly an invasion of states' rights.

Vital to the States, Says O'Neal.

"This is a measure of vital importance to the states," declared Governor O'Neal, "and as such it should be dealt with by the states through their chief executives. The states ought to act in union and voice the indignation of the entire people of the country before the United States supreme court. I think that we ought to appoint a commission to represent us before the court."

"Why don't you put that in the form of a motion?" asked Governor James Hawley, of Idaho.

"I move, Mr. Chairman," was the reply of the Alabama governor, "that this conference appoint a committee of five governors to take such action as may be necessary, before the United States supreme court to see that the rights of the states are properly protected."

Some Governors Opposed.

Opposition was encountered from several delegates on the ground that expenses of the committee could not legally be paid pro rata by the state, and Governor Stubbs, of Kansas, moved the appointment of a committee of three, who could employ their own state's attorneys to draft such papers as might be necessary. Under his motion, the committee was "appointed by this conference to represent the governors' conference in this case, and to file briefs with the supreme court as a protest against Justice Sanborn's decision."

Governor Hadley, of Missouri, suggested that Governor Harmon, of Ohio, be appointed chairman of the committee. Governor Stubbs embodied the suggestion in his motion and included Governors Hadley and Aldrich as the other two members.

Governor Gilchrist, of Florida, at first opposed, later supported the

HUSBAND LEAVES WIFE FOR JAIL TO GET A QUIET NIGHT'S SLEEP

Chicago, September 14.—Harry Burg, a piano manufacturer, told municipal Judge Newcomer today that last night's was the first quiet sleep he had had in the thirteen years he had been married. He was in jail.

"We had been having a spat," he told the court. "My wife said she would call the police. 'Anything to please,' I told her, 'I'll call them myself.'"

When Burg reached the police station there were half a dozen relatives waiting to bail him out, but the husband refused.

"It was the first time I ever got the best of my wife," he said. "I'd rather go to jail than listen to a woman, wouldn't you?"

Judge Newcomer did not answer and Burg added, "Oh, well, you don't know my wife."

SPEAKERS NAMED FOR BIG MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT

Interest and Enthusiasm in the New Charter Rapidly Increasing.

ROUSING RALLY TONIGHT OF WARD COMMITTEEMEN

Campaign Committee Makes Arrangements for Holding Meetings Every Night Next Week in Every Ward—Big Mass Meeting Will Be Held at the Grand on Election Eve.

LIST OF THE SPEAKERS FOR THE BIG CENTRAL RALLY

Following is the list of speakers who have been selected to address the voters of the city in the interest of the charter at the big central rally, which will be held at the Grand Opera House next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock:

Former Mayor Robert F. Maddox, C. T. Ladson, J. D. Kilpatrick, Robert A. Broyles and Walter McElreath.

Every citizen of Atlanta is invited to attend the meeting.

Interest and enthusiasm in the new charter which will be voted on September 27 will be given additional impetus at a big rally of ward committeemen, which will be held at campaign headquarters, 12½ South Broad street, tonight at 8 o'clock.

The ward committees are composed of leading citizens from each ward who are charged with the duty of thoroughly organizing their wards and holding ward meetings in the interest of the proposed new charter.

At the meeting to be held Friday night a campaign of education will be put under way which will acquaint every voter of the city with the features of the new charter and its advantages over the present antiquated system of government, which has been in force for so many years, and which Atlanta has outgrown.

Speakers for Tonight.

Among the speakers Friday night will be Former Mayor Robert F. Maddox, Robert A. Broyles, Charles Hopkins, Col. E. E. Pomeroy and several others, who have made a complete study of the new charter, and who are familiar with all its details.

The meeting of the ward committeemen Friday night will be followed with a grand central rally at the Grand Opera House Saturday night.

Every citizen of Atlanta is invited to attend this meeting. It is not planned alone for charter adherents, but is held for the purpose of giving instructions to every voter of the city in regard to the merits of the new charter, and to this end all classes of citizens, whether for or against the charter, are invited to be present and hear the arguments which will be advanced in its favor.

The speakers for the occasion have been selected from among the best-known citizens of the city. They are men who have the welfare and upbuilding of Atlanta at heart. They are men in whom every citizen, regardless of political alliances, has confidence and faith, and they will clearly and fairly present every feature of the proposed charter and will discuss in detail its numerous advantages over the old charter.

Those who have been selected to speak at the meeting are former Mayor Robert F. Maddox, C. T. Ladson, J. D. Kilpatrick, Robert A. Broyles and Walter McElreath.

Meetings Every Night.

At the meeting Thursday afternoon the campaign committee made arrangements for holding meetings every night next week in every ward in the city, and one of the most active campaigns ever conducted will be started and kept going until election day, on September 27.

Lists of speakers are being prepared, meeting places are being arranged for, and within the next day or so definite announcement will be made as to the time and place of these meetings, together with the speakers who will be heard.

The members of the committee were

35,000 GEORGIA ACRES FOR FOREST RESERVE

$100,000 WORTH OF DOGS ATTEND CANINE FUNERAL

San Francisco, September 14.—One hundred thousand dollars' worth of dogs—100 animals in all—in the custody of their mistress, attended a canine funeral that was marked by all romp generally displayed in honor of an eminent human. The occasion was the interment of Miss Jennie Crocker's prize-winning Boston terriers, Wonderland Duchess and Dick Dazzler.

The funeral cortege wended its way from the Crocker kennels to a little dog cemetery, where the two terriers were laid away in coffins of concrete fashioned on the Egyptian style.

"Little Johnny Flea" killed the prize terriers.

35 PHYSICIANS HUNT DIPHTHERIA

But Only One Positive Case Found in Schools.

Twenty-Three "Carriers" Sent Home—Results of Examination of Thousands of Throats Indicate Less of the Disease Than Usual.

Thirty-five physicians, under the command of City Bacteriologist Dr. Claud A. Smith, are camping on the trail of the diphtheria germ with a view to eliminating its presence from the throats of Atlanta's school children.

Pupils of twenty-three schools, up to date, have had things thrust down their throats and been made to say, "Ah-h-h-h-h-h," while the doctors took hasty squints into their interiors. Medical heads were shaken over 400 of the throats thus examined, for their inflamed nature showed that diphtheria might be present. "Cultures" were therefore taken in these cases and after said "cultures" had been baked overnight in the municipal bug-roaster in the city hall the results showed that there were twenty-three undoubted diphtheria-carriers among the children thus far examined.

Affected Children Sent Home.

These children were forthwith ordered to stay at home until all danger is over. It is not to be understood that the twenty-three "carriers" are seriously sick with the disease, but they might have spread contagion which later would have developed into serious cases. One child was found, however, who was really ill and should have been in bed long ago. Where no trace of diphtheria was found, the children were permitted to return to school.

The medical inspection will be continued until all the school children have been examined, which will probably be by next Monday, thus accomplishing in one week the work that occupied a month last year.

"By commencing this work at the beginning of the school term," said Dr. Smith yesterday, "we are stamping out the disease before it can gain a foothold. Last year the inspection was not made until the last part of September and the result was we found 238 diphtheria "carriers," which, with the cases reported by family physicians, made a total of 400 cases.

Less Than Usual.

"That number will be very greatly reduced this year, as the percentage of diphtheritic throats found so far is much smaller. The co-operation given us by the teachers and principals is very helpful and we are rushing the work through and at the same time doing it thoroughly. In most cases we are able to trace the source of the contagion and stamp it out entirely."

MACVEAGH IS OPTIMISTIC IN REGARD TO BUSINESS

Boston, September 14.—Optimistic views on the business situation were expressed today by Secretary of the Treasury Franklin MacVeagh, after visiting President Taft at Beverly.

"Regarding the general business situation," said Secretary MacVeagh, "I am not a pessimist. The country is simply pausing to take a breath after its headlong flight of 1906 and 1909, a setback which was inevitable, and will be of immense good.

"The banking situation, from reports that I hear, is sound enough, and the national treasury is on 'easy street.'"

TAFT TO SWING AROUND CIRCLE

The President Begins His Cross-Continent Trip Tonight.

It's Admitted That Taft's Political Fate Depends on Trip. He Will Invade Insurgent Country and Defend His Policies.

Beverly, Mass., September 14.—President Taft leaves Beverly tomorrow on his second swing around the circle.

In the opinion of many of his friends the trip promises to be one of the most important ever undertaken by a chief executive. He himself has said he will indulge in but little political discussion, but it is admitted that opportunity for such discussion will not be merely offered, but probably will be thrust upon him. That he would accept the gage of battle if some heckler in his audiences threw it on the platform is hardly doubted. That the president's political fortune may depend to some extent on this journey is agreed by many men close to the administration.

What Taft Will Talk About.

Two years ago tomorrow the president started from Beverly on his first cross-country trip after entering the white house. He had been six months in office and the Payne-Aldrich tariff law had been five weeks on the statute books. On that trip he delivered his famous address at Winona, Minn., a defense of that law on which most of the criticism of the administration's tariff policy has been based. On the list for the present journey the president has set down the tariff and "the tariff board" as two subjects for addresses.

His vetoes of the wool bill, the cotton bill and the farmers' free list bill have not been set aside for separate speeches, but that they will be dealt with in the two general addresses is highly probable. The tariff may prove, after all, the leading topic, although that is not the president's plan.

Other subjects to be given consideration include reciprocity, conservation, the peace treaties, marriage and divorce, the trust problem, financial reform, the Panama canal, reform

UNCLE SAM BUYS 234 LAND LOTS IN BLUE RIDGE

The Tract Is Rich in Mineral and Forest Resources, Also in Scenic Beauty.

TO BE INCLUDED IN BIG APPALACHIAN RESERVE

Includes Several Districts Prominent in the History of the State—Sale Made by One Man, Who Owned It All—Final Transfer Waits Alone on Proof of Title Now Being Investigated.

Thirty-five thousand acres of Georgia mountain lands, rich in forests, minerals and scenery, have been purchased by the United States to be included in the great Appalachian forest reserve provided for by an appropriation of $10,000,000 from congress.

The great tract will be held in store for the future, the national resources represented to be conserved in the most modern and scientific manner.

District Attorney F. C. Tate is now examining the titles, and if there is no fault in the abstract the transaction will be concluded following the district attorney's report.

Something over $200,000 is the price to be paid the present owner. The tract includes 234 land lots, located in Fannin, Union and Lumpkin counties, the larger section being in Fannin, a goodly portion in Union, with only a small acreage in Lumpkin. Reservation takes in the Canada, Gaddistown and Cooper's creek districts. It is right among the Blue Ridge mountains, and Frozen Knob, one of the high peaks of north Georgia, several thousand feet above sea level, is included in the tract.

The Fannin county border of the reservation is within a comparatively short distance of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and some of the nearby towns are Ellijay, Blue Ridge, Mineral Bluff and Dahlonega. Gaddistown was the old home of Joseph E.

Advice to Women

You are advised to take a few doses of Cardui, the woman's tonic, whenever you feel poorly.

It will ease your headache, backache, nervousness, irritability, and other symptoms of womanly trouble.

It will help to build up your bodily strength, steady your nerves, brighten your eyes, and bring the glow of health to your cheeks.

Mrs. Fannie Fitzpatrick, of Paris, Ky., says:

"I suffered for 2 years, with my back, head and limbs. I had the blues so bad, I could hardly live. I had no appetite. I never had any health, after my last child, until I began to take Cardui. All women who suffer from female trouble, should take Cardui. It is the best medicine on earth, for women."

The sale for Cardui is so large, that every druggist keeps a supply.

You will find it in every store you go.

It must be good, or it wouldn't sell so well.

It is convenient to know you can always get it.

Take some today. Why not?

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Brown, war governor and United States senator, and Georgians will therefore be interested in knowing that the government reservation plans will conserve the surrounding territory.

A number of small waterways cross the reservation, among them being Lovinggood and Noontootla creeks. The latter is a stream of some size, though the former is of minor importance. The Toccoa river also crosses the tract, and the Etowah heads toward the territory covered by the reservation. Another more important stream in the surrounding territory is the Coosawatta river.

The timber on part of the 35,000 acres has been cut; but for the most it is made up of wild land covered with fair timber. Located close to the Tennessee border, and in one of the most beautiful sections of north Georgia, it will make a splendid forest reservation.

Congressman Gordon Lee, of the seventh district, is a member of the commission appointed to consider the location of the reservations; and to him is due much of the credit for the purchase of the Georgia tract.

The work of examining the titles is a slow and arduous task. The abstract includes original land grants from the state, ownership titles through tax sales, and claims by continuous possession. All of the 35,000 acres had been purchased from time to time by Andrew Jennette, who made the sale to the government.

When the sale is consummated wardens will be appointed and the regular forestry work of the government will be started in the Georgia reservation.

It is one of the first tracts for the Appalachian reserve to be selected by the federal commission. It is not improbable that others in the northern section of the state will be purchased later on.

RALLY ON MONDAY AGAINST CHARTER

The Anti-Charterites Will Hold Many Ward Meetings During the Campaign.

A grand rally of the forces opposed to the new charter will be held in the Grand opera house on the evening of Monday, September 25. The most persuasive speakers of the anti-charter faction will hold forth on this occasion. The attendance of the ladies is especially desired.

The anti-charter faction will continue to hold ward meetings during the evenings of this week and next. Tonight a gathering in the old city hall will be addressed by Judge George Hillyer, Dr. George Brown, J. E. McClelland, B. M. Blackburn, Frank Willby, J. L. Mason and W. S. McNeal.

Saturday night the general campaign committee will meet at headquarters, 12 West Alabama street.

The executive committee of the anti-charter campaign held a meeting at headquarters Thursday afternoon to report progress or otherwise. Judge George Hillyer made the hopeful statement, "We are going to whip this fight," a declaration which was enthusiastically received by the other committeemen.

Councilman Harvey Hatcher read a paper he had prepared in an endeavor to show that the advocates of the new charter are just as much politicians as are the stand-patters.

Pests Ruining Laurens Cotton.

Dublin, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) The caterpillar is badly damaging cotton in this county in certain sections. Ed. L. The caterpillar has gotten in and is said to be ruining the cotton. Already much damage has been done. The state entomologist has been asked to suggest a remedy. Mr. Wade is one of the best farmers in the county and has not before been troubled with the caterpillar in years.

DR. E. Y. MULLINS PREACHES ON THE LORDSHIP OF JESUS

An audience which almost completely filled the spacious new Baptist Tabernacle, heard Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, at Louisville, deliver a sermon of "The Lordship of Christ" last night.

Dr. Mullins is one of the most scholarly orators in the south, and his address was a masterpiece of logic and eloquence. The Lordship of Jesus and the conquering power of the church always go together, said he. The very names given Jesus, Messiah, Lord and Master were indicative of His Lordship, he argued.

Dr. Mullins' story of the more important events in the life of Christ was both interesting and instructive. Christ, he declared, was Lord by divine appointment. God made Him both Lord and Christ. All God's appointments are reasonable, the speaker said. Christ was appointed Lord because He was of a lordly nature. He was inherently divine and worthy of the appointment. His fitness to be Lord is seen in His creation of what we term the spiritual life, said Dr. Mullins. Nothing but the Lordship of Christ has kept alive the spiritual life of the world, he declared. Jesus put into human life the principles which govern our lives today, he said, and His teachings are as applicable now as when the Savior walked the earth.

Christ is Lord because He is practically the only way to escape from sin; except through Him there is no escape. He is Lord because He meets the practical needs of man. Man, said Dr. Mullins, needs a master in time of temptation and when he is wrung by pain and anguish. Jesus exerts His lordship by making us free; giving us the right of private judgment in the interpretation of the Scriptures.

The sermon was one of the most convincing arguments for the divinity of Christ ever delivered in Atlanta pulpit and was received with profound interest by the audience. The work of the choir was, as usual, an interesting and attractive part of the service.

Dr. Campbell Morgan will preach at the 11 o'clock service this morning, and will lecture on "The Music of Life" this evening. The distinguished English divine will conclude the dedicatory service Sunday night.

Dr. Broughton announced that he expects to collect $20,000 during the Sunday services, and made an eloquent plea for aid in defraying the expenses of the splendid dedicatory services he has undertaken.

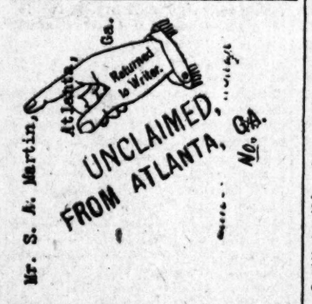
MUST BE KNOWN MIGHTY WELL IF THE POSTOFFICE LOCATES YOU

"Unclaimed from Atlanta" was the laconic message sent back to New York on an envelope directed to S. A. Martin, a prominent business man of the city who has had offices in the Austell building for some time and whose name has appeared in the local city directory for several years past.

The address on the envelope was typewritten and read: "Mr. S. A. Martin, Atlanta, Ga."

The letter was postmarked in New York, August 28, and was sent to the general delivery department of the local postoffice (as shown by a stamp it bears) on August 30. Ten days later it started on its return journey to New York, sent back to the return address on the envelope. The New York firm immediately returned the envelope inclosed in one addressed exactly as the other had been and both were delivered without delay.

That a hurried effort was made to locate Mr. Martin through the city directory is shown by the fact that the first envelope is stamped "Directory Searcher No. 4," but presumably the searcher was too hurried to make a thorough search, as Mr. Martin's name is to be found in the directory. It is stated that the directory searchers handle upwards of 15,000 pieces of mail daily, which makes it apparent that they cannot give much time to any one letter.



Address on envelope returned "unclaimed" by Atlanta postoffice. Name of person addressed was in the Atlanta directory.

VALUABLE CANDY MACHINE INVENTED BY ATLANTAN

Five thousand pounds of stick candy would last the average small boy some several weeks, but it takes a machine just completed by an Atlantan an even ten hours to turn out that much solid sweetness all ready to be boxed.

The machine is the invention of W. T. Hudson, a resident of this city, who was for a number of years connected with the Frank E. Block Company. For eight years Mr. Hudson has worked on his machine, and for the past five years has devoted his entire time to it. He has just completed it, and feels certain that it is perfect at last.

Stick candy has heretofore been rolled by hand and cut into lengths with a pair of shears. The machine which Mr. Hudson has just completed not only rolls the candy into sticks, but cuts it in uniform lengths and that, too, at the same rate that sixteen men can do the work by hand. And the machine rolls and cuts every stick exactly alike, whereas there are variations in stocks rolled by hand. Mr. Hudson has demonstrated to a number of candy manufacturers that the machine saves 75 per cent of the work of rolling and cutting the candy and fully as much space in a factory.

A company for the manufacture of the machines, which will not be sold, but leased, is now being formed. The machines will be built here and will, it is believed, be sold in every part of the world eventually. There is said to be a handsome profit in the manufacture and lease.

MEDAL FOR MOTORMAN WHO SAVED MAN'S LIFE

Savannah, Ga., September 14.—L. Hathaway, a motorman, employed by the Savannah Electric Company, was today presented by the company with a bronze medal suitably inscribed, for having saved John Lovett from being run over by his car last Sunday.

Hathaway, who is a man of powerful physique, reached over and grabbed Lovett from the track, preventing the car from running over him. The presentation took place at the car barns at noon.

OWLS' NEST NOT INVOLVED IN TROUBLE WITH HAYNES

Officers of Atlanta Nest No. 1190, Order of Owls, deny that their lodge has had aught to do with the charge of forgery upon which W. A. Haynes, traveling representative of the home nest, has been indicted here.

They state that the nest has been confused with the Owls Club, which, they say, has had the trouble with the home nest and Mr. Haynes.

EMORY FACING BANNER TERM

Course in Journalism to Be One of Innovation of Seventy-Sixth Term.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—The seventy-sixth session of Emory college, which opens Wednesday, September 20, will be a banner one for the college if present indications work out. Already the number of applications justify the assertion that the enrollment will equal if not pass that of last year.

The new theological department, with an endowment of $100,000, which was established last commencement, will begin active work with the opening of the term. Dr. C. E. Dowman, ex-president of the college, will be the dean of this new department and will be assisted by Professor R. G. Smith, who will fill the chair of Biblical literature.

The faculty of the college has been strengthened by the addition of two new instructors. Both will be assistants in the department of English. They are Professor Gordon Stype, formally of Candler college, Havana, Cuba, and Mr. Marvin Lester, an alumnus of Emory.

The six-day schedule that was given a try-out last year has been supplanted by the old five-day schedule and from now on Monday will be a holiday for the students.

Several feature courses have been arranged by the different professors and will be offered to the upper classmen. A course in practical journalism will be conducted by Dr. W. F. Melton, professor of English, an old newspaper writer. Dr. Johnson, of the department of history and political economy, will offer an interesting course in socialism and advanced economics.

Professor H. H. Stone, for the last five years librarian, has resigned and Professor Rembart Smith has been elected to succeed him.

NO NEAR BEER UNDER Y. M. C. A.

License Is Withheld for the Place on Alabama Street.

Acceding to the request of a large delegation from the Railroad Y. M. C. A., of 29 West Alabama street, the police committee of council yesterday refused the application of J. P. Hunter for a license to run a near beer saloon in the ground floor of the building, partly occupied by the religious organization aforenamed.

The delegates stated that there were already five saloons in the immediate vicinity, a number which they thought sufficient to satisfy the thirst of the neighborhood. Another saloon, situated below the rooms of the association, would not only be a general nuisance, they said, but would have the direct effect of causing much annoyance to the fifty roomers who are quartered in the association nightly. The chief of police threw his influence on the side of the Y. M. C. A., and prohibition carried the field.

The committee acted favorably on the application of the Loyal Order of Moose, local lodge No. 523, for a permit to conduct a locker club. J. McSwain Woods is president of the lodge, which has 352 members and is located in temporary quarters at 11½ East Alabama street. The order was represented by Attorney F. E. Radesleben.

The petition of John Hanjaris for a near beer permit for 542 Marietta street received an adverse report. The commitee approved issuing a near beer permit to Moses Hawkes, at 96 Decatur street, the transfer of a permit from H. Butler to G. Stone, at 574 Decatur street, and a permit for two pool tables to Victor Brown, at 251 Decatur street.

FARMER OF PIKE STABBED TO DEATH

W. R. Jones Killed in Three-Cornered Row by John Allen.

Zebulon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—In a three-cornered fight between John Allen, Tom Warren and W. R. Jones here this afternoon Jones was stabbed to death by Allen.

The tragedy created a sensation owing to the prominence of the parties concerned.

According to witnesses, Warren and Jones, both drinking, approached Allen in Cook's meat market and endeavored to compel him to take a drink with them. On the refusal of Allen, Warren advanced on him with a drawn bottle and Jones also took part in the difficulty.

At this juncture distinterested parties restrained Warren and then Jones seized Allen, who, apparently in self-defense, stabbed Jones to death.

Jones was a well-known farmer and superintendent of the Pike county farm. He leaves a wife and several children, also a brother, who is county superintendent of public roads.

Allen is a well-known young married man and is well connected.

He surrendered to the sheriff immediately and Warren was placed under bond.

MORRIS BROWN STUDENTS KICK ON NEW PRESIDENT

They Say That a College Man Should Have Been Chosen.

A portion of the student body of Morris-Brown college, the institution for negroes, has formally protested against the recent election of W. A. Fontaine to succeed the late president, E. W. Lee.

The protest has taken the form of two letters to the chancellor and board of trustees and to Fontaine himself, the grounds for the dissatisfaction being that Fontaine is not a college graduate. The letter to Fontaine asks that he voluntarily resign the president's chair, stating that in case he doesn't the dissatisfied students will go to other schools.

14,869 WHITE, 4,918 COLORED CHILDREN NOW IN THE SCHOOLS

Practically remedied is the congested condition in Atlanta's public school system. However, before the situation could be well handled, several additions to buildings had to be made and many new teachers added. In many schools, new grades were also created in order that the overflow might be competed with.

At the Tenth street school, an addition was made to the building that will accommodate the immense overflow. The work will be finished immediately, and the calsses now distributed throughout the building will be put under the supervision of an added teacher in the new apartment.

At the Hill street school new fourth and first grades were created, and two additional teachers employed.

At the English avenue school, in order to master an overflow of forty students, several new grades were established and new teachers added.

Many other schools also experienced additions in quarters and to the corps of instructors. The additional teachers employed for the present term now number almost forty, with the prospects great for more additions.

Lacking about 100, the enrollment in the entire system of schools yesterday reached 20,000. In the white schools there are 14,869, and in the colored, 4,918, an enormous increase over last year's attendance.

"THE GEORGIA YALLER YAM," BY CHAMPION YAM GROWER

LaGrange, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—The following rhyme on the "Georgia Yaller Yam" has been sent to the chamber of commerce for reproduction and distribution to northern farmers. John Lynch, a recent acquisition to Troup county from northern Georgia, who now lives on the Rowland farm and is one of the biggest yam raisers of the county, is contributor.

The following is the kernel of thought poetically expressed by Mr. Lynch:

I'll tell you about something good to eat,
Not oysters, fish or clam,
It's something good just by itself
It's a Georgia yaller yam.

It's good to make a pudding,
Mighty good to fry,
Good fer 'tater custard
Or good sliced 'tater pie.

Good to eat with 'possum,
Good to eat with ham,
Good to eat just by itself,
This Georgia yaller yam.

This Georgia yaller yam
By several names is called:
The Vineless and the Patisaw
And the famous Nancy Hall.

They are raised way down in Florida,
Also out in Alabam;
But them 'taters won't compare
With the Georgia yaller yam.

When the winters is a freezin'
And a-bitin' of the toes,
This yaller yam is bread and meat
And pretty good old clothes.

Good to eat with pork chops,
Good to eat with ham,
Good to eat just by itself,
Is this Georgia yaller yam.

CITIZENS ARE PLANNING TO KEEP OUT SANITARIUMS

At an indignation meeting held last night at the residence of Craig Cofield, on Gordon street, at which some thirty of forty citizens of West End were present, vigorous steps were considered to keep out sanitariums from that part of the city.

The meeting was called as a result of the announcement that Dr. John H. Neall would establish a sanitarium at 236 Gordon street. He secured the house by lease, and has stated, so neighbors say, that he intended to conduct a sanitarium there.

Present at the meeting were Craig Cofield, Rev. H. L. Crumley, F. P. Heffner, W. B. Disbro, Hubert L. Culberson, Luther Rosser and others.

It was the sense of the meeting that all legal steps possible be taken to prevent the opening of the Neall sanitarium, and also that a movement be started to get rid of all other sanitariums in that section.

GOVERNMENT JOBS POPULAR; 200 AWAIT ONE EXAMINATION

Lots of people seem very eager to work for Uncle Sam if applications for the civil service examinations are a true indication. In one day only, Superintendent Donnell received 200 applications for the general postoffice examinations, which will be held in November, and by 10:30 o'clock Thursday 50 more had been received. The applicants wish to take the examinations for postal clerks and carriers, and usually there are two or three thousand applicants in the six states which form Superintendent Donnell's division.

Applications may be sent in as late as October 1.

On October 24 local examinations for stenographers and typewriters will be held.

Those passing in these examinations will find ready employment, says Superintendent Donnell, as there are always more vacancies than applicants.

"I have a half-dozen or more vacancies to be filled right now," said the superintendent."

Applications for these examinations will be received as late as October 19 in Washington, from where the examinations are directed. The pay on an average is about $75 a month, though sometimes it goes a good deal higher.

The usual examination for the railway mail service will not be held this year, presumably because the waiting list is sufficiently large. This examination is very popular, 300 and more applications being received every year.

Other civil service examinations which will be held this fall in Atlanta and many other cities are those for veterinary inspector, on October 4, salary $1,400 a year; laboratory assistant in timber tests (for men), $800 a year, October 4; laboratory assistant, bureau of standards, salaries from $900 to $1,200 a year, October 4; inspector's assistant (for men), $840 a year, October 4; chemist, Philippine service (for men), $2,000 a year, October 4; assistant chemist, department of agriculture, $1,200 to $1,600 a year, September 20; male accountant, Philippine service, $1,500 to $2,500, October 4.

As applicants for these positions are scarce, the government urges that entries be made.

Georgia Delegates to Montgomery Meeting Pleased.

Commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson, Charles S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, and R. F. Duckworth, state president of the union, and Charles J. Haden, returned yesterday from Montgomery, where they attended the first session of the Southern Cotton Growers' Congress.

The representatives from Georgia were highly pleased with the success of the meeting and the great interest shown by the cotton growers in the movement to gradually market the crop and thus secure a good price, instead of dumping it all on the market at one time and accepting any price which the buyer sees fit to pay.

The next meeting of the congress, in 1912, was secured for Atlanta, through the efforts of Mr. Hudson, Mr. Haden, Mr. Barrett and Mr. Duckworth, and others attending from Georgia, and they are confident that it will be one of the largest and most successful meeting of the kind ever held.

Mr. Hudson, Mr. Duckworth and J. T. McDaniel, secretary and treasurer of the Farmers' Union, were named as members of the finance committee from Georgia, and Mr. Haden was named chairman of the legislative committee.

"The meeting was productive of splendid results," said Mr. Hudson. "There were fully 500 farmers and as many business men, congressmen, senators and bankers present, representing every section of the cotton belt.

"It was developed that reports of a bumper cotton crop for this year are unfounded, and that the entire crop in America will not exceed 12,500,000 bales. Following this report a resolution was adopted to the effect that the cotton will be worth 15 cents a pound, and that the grower should hold it for that price.

"In order that the crop may be financed this year it was agreed that the grower should deposit his cotton in a warehouse and use his receipt as collateral until he secures a fair price for his cotton, the price to be not less than 15 cents. It was also decided to request the several legislatures of the states interested to make provision for a system of bonded warehouses."

LAGRANGE MILLS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Despite Fact That Past Year Has Been Hard One for Textile Plants.

LaGrange, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Unity cotton mills, Manchester cotton mills, Elm City cotton mills and Security warehouse directors and stockholders held annual meetings in this city Wednesday afternoon, and all old directors and officers were re-elected.

Pope F. Callaway was elected director of Unity mills to succeed Dr. T. S. Bradfield, deceased. An 8 per cent dividend was declared in the case of Security Warehouse Company's stock, while the usual dividends were declared by the other companies with the exception of Manchester mills, which earnings were held over for further development. While the manufacture of cotton products in the past two years has been done generally at a big loss, the local mills made a very good showing and the usual dividends were declared.

Those attending the meetings from out-of-town were: Messrs. George M. Traylor and James Banks, of Atlanta; W. H. Tobey, of Chicago; Charles E. Perkins, of New York; F. Coit Johnson and O. A. Barnard, of New York, representatives of J. H. Lane & Co.

POPE BROWN TO OPEN OFFICES AT ARAGON

Candidate Will Fit Out Headquarters Early Next Week.

Former Treasurer Pope Brown, now a candidate for governor, will open active campaign headquarters in rooms 2, 4 and 6, next to the second floor parlors of the Aragon hotel, next week upon his return from an extensive speaking trip in south Georgia.

Mr. Brown has been speaking in all parts of the state for some weeks, but up to this time has had no headquarters. He will, however, before leaving on his next trip, fit out his headquarters at the Aragon in preparation for the last few months of the campaign for the governorship.

Mr. Brown will speak at Camilla Friday morning and at Pelham in the afternoon. His other dates are as follows: Moultrie, September 15, morning; Hartsfield, September 15, afternoon; Springfield, Monday, September 18; Trenton, Thursday, September 21; Hamilton, October 3; Oglethorpe, October 4.

NO AGRICULTURAL STATEMENT SOON

Investigation Will Be Delayed Two or Three Weeks.

Commissioner Says His Force Is Too Busy Getting Up Fertilizer Bulletin to Prepare for Special Committee of Inquiry From the General Assembly.

The statement which the agricultural department has been asked to make to the legislative committee which is charged with the investigation of the department will not be ready for perhaps two or three weeks.

Commissioner T. G. Hudson returned yesterday from Montgomery, where he attended the meeting of the Southern Cotton Growers' Congress, and he stated that it would probably be two or three weeks, maybe longer, before the statement is ready.

"We have had to stop work on the preparation of this statement," said Mr. Hudson, "in order to finish the work on the fertilizer bulletin, which must be issued from the office on October 1.

"This bulletin is of great importance to the farmers of the state, and we were compelled to drop everything else and get to work on it. It is keeping all the office force busy. I cannot say definitely when the state, ment will be ready for the committee. They have not been pressing us for it, and we will have it prepared just as soon as we possibly can."

When the committee requested the statement about six weeks ago, the commissioner assured its members that he could have it ready by about September 10.

The investigation of the department, as provided for by the legislature, awaits the completion of the statement, which is expected to cover in detail the financial operations of the department since the incumbency of the present commissioner.

It is probable that the committee will meet and make plans for the investigation as soon as the department's statement of past operations is ready.

MOST ACCURATE GUNNER IN TROUP ARTILLERY

best artillery organization in the Confederate service from Georgia. He was brought to Athens from Atlanta, where he died in the Soldiers' home.

The body was to have laid in state at the city hall, but a delayed train upset the plans of the city employees and officials who thus desired to honor the veteran who was, after the service in the war, an employee of the city for many years, breaking a leg in the volunteer fire service, and was taken care of in appointment to a light job.

Many veterans met the remains and went out to the country church to the burial. Private Pridgeon was a gunner under the late Dr. H. H. Carlton, in the Troup artillery, famous in Georgia during the war.

NEGRO CHAUFFEUR SAVED BY LAGRANGE OFFICER

Black Was About to Be Handled for Running Down Three Children.

LaGrange, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Narrowly averting a more serious accident, John Tobey, a negro chaffeur, ran down with his automobile, a small runabout containing three little children of John Carley. The children were thrown from their conveyance, and one child, Miss Margaret Carley, was severely injured.

Enraged at the actions of the negro, John Carley and friends were about to drag him to the rear of business buildings and administer a beating when Policeman Gibson appeared on the scene and took Tobey to jail. Tobey was later brought before Mayor Edmondson and fined $10 for reckless driving.

Dublin's Paving Contract.

Dublin, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) The city has closed a contract with the Alabama Paving Company for some additional street paving. This is the third contract entered into since street paving was resumed in the late spring. The new contract calls for 1,500 square yards of paving, which will take a month or two to complete. All the paving originally contracted for has been finished and traffic resumed on the streets affected.

Sumter's Rate Reduced.

Americus, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—The tax rate of Sumter county will be reduced 10 mills this year as the result of action of the board of commerce in session this morning. The new rate will be nine-tenths of one cent. While the taxes will thus be reduced Sumter county will not let up in building splendid highways, but will construct next year as great mileage as this year.

Beautiful Millinery

Smart, Natty Turbans and Toques for Present Wear

"Chic" is perhaps the word which best describes them. "Drapery" the distinguishing feature, for these stylish toques and turbans are, for the most part, formed of folds upon folds of soft, rich materials. Most of them built high and all fitting closely to the head.

They are to be had at from $10 up to as high as you wish to pay, but it is surprising what a pretty one $10 will buy. We will be glad to have you inspect them.

Domestic 5c

Three thousand yards of good grade, yard-wide, bleached domestic go on sale today at 5c the yard. This quality sells regularly at 8 3-4c.

Towels 6¼c

These towels are made from a good, medium weight cotton huck. They are 18x36 inches in size, and have fast red borders. The original price was $1.10 the dozen. Today, 6 1-4c each, or 75c the dozen.

New Petticoats of Messaline Priced $2.19

Several important differences between these petticoats and those of a month ago. First, of course, the colors; they are more subdued—more in keeping with the Autumn. Also cut a little fuller at the bottom because of the tendency which dress skirts show towards added fullness. Also so as not to be bunglesome. No dust ruffles at all—just the soft, supple messaline about the ankles.

They come in black and a good range of colors. A most unusual value at $2.19.

Also at $3.98 a petticoat of splendid messaline (blacks and colors) bordered at the bottom with a heavy self-colored fringe. These will be most popular.

ABDOBAND

The Abdoband Corset holds the abdomen in the normal position and positively prevents the corset from riding up. It takes the strain from the hose supporters and prevents the tearing of the hose.

The feature is a band fastened to the inside of the corset the ends of which protrude through slits and fasten with buckles on the outside of the corset next to the hips.

You Will Be Much Interested in These

Tailored Suits at $25

It is remarkable—the excess of value in these tailored suits at $25. They are tailored, too—splendidly tailored. You realize it when you note the perfectly fitting collars; the shoulders (like those of an Englishman's coat) giving just that appearance of smartness so much desired; the revers setting perfectly in place as if sewed to the coat itself.

The materials, too, are fine. All wool worsteds, homespuns, Drogheda mixtures and mannish materials—the kind one expects to find in garments much higher priced.

You will be amazed at the value they represent. A great variety of good Autumn colorings. Regular and out sizes.

THE BOYS' STORE

It's a new kind of a boys' store—the kind you have NOT been accustomed to—the kind where complete lines of sizes, vast varieties of styles, and a great range of materials supplant the usual stintedness and lack of preparation.

The clothing itself is wonderfully well made. We have bought the best. The prices have been marked up on the department store basis, instead of that of the specialty shop. You know what that means in savings.

FURNITURE Built for a Lifetime

Sold on Special Terms of Credit

The department store—what a power it has been in the way of helping families of moderate circumstances to furnish their homes beautifully, comfortable, well, and at moderate expense. What a friend of humanity that great man who first installed a furniture department in his department store.

Take this store, for instance—two great floors, well stocked with beautiful, conservative, durable furniture, asking but a fair profit upon its sales, and yet allowing liberal terms of credit to those who do not wish to make a too great outlay at the start.

This furniture will last; it is built to last a lifetime. Thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of new furniture has arrived during the past few weeks. Come in and inspect it.

Don't trust that fall-time feeling: It's all in the air.

Oh, that the high-flyers of the world knew how to light!

Colonel Roosevelt and Rudyard Kipling are talking again.

However, even Senator Lorimer can't talk the tariff to death.

Why shoot at the aviators? They'll fall without a waste of gunpowder.

"The suffragettes want Maryland." Well, if that's all, they're welcome.

"As straight as the aviator flies" has put the "bee-line" out of business.

Trying to break an airship record is almost as bad as getting defeated for congress.

Cheer up! You might have been born in Maine, and condemned to live there.

So, they won't have to pray for any more rain in Maine than they have had all along.

Texas is trying to get rid of an extra-session legislature, but any kind is trouble enough.

Champ Clark wants more politicians. And yet, he says he wants to save the country.

It's no use. Even the man who is dodging the presidential office is hot after the limelight.

After the gasoline gives out, the surviving aviator looks like a down-and-out prize fighter.

Mr. Brooks cannot afford to bring his comet within the limelight of the moving picture shows.

As the crops come in, do you think to thank God for the fields that give you your daily bread?

They say the new comet has a crooked tail. And yet it was not named after a politician.

Six thousand women want to marry Hetty Green's son. But he has no idea of taking more than one.

Dr. Wiley escaped one danger, but think of the terrors that threaten him in his war against tobacco!

All the candidates want easy riding, but few jerk their coats and roll up their sleeves to make good roads.

They say one can't sleep while Dr. Campbell Morgan is preaching. How comes it, then, the doctor is so popular?

It is doubtful if Evangelist Bryan will succeed in getting Governor Harmon to ask an interest in his prayers.

An eminent scientist says there's "no such thing as being 'tired.'" But why do people rest so when they are in office?

Why so much interest in a new comet, since it can only carry one man's name through the interstellar space?

Of course, if we have more politicians, as Champ Clark advises, we'll have longer congressional and state legislative sessions.

Senators who complained of the hard work of the extra session have no objection to the strenuous duty of the lecture platform.

The money Colonel Astor paid for his marriage ceremony would have sent a poor couple on a six months' honeymoon and made two hearts happy for the balance of the year.

THE PEOPLE WILL BE BOSS!

In their desperation, the opponents of the people's charter are making use in their street-circulated literature of the following bit of particularly flagrant misrepresentation:

"It (the new charter) abolishes representative government and gives us five bosses, without recall by the people."

Of course, a kindergartner could penetrate this palpable attempt to deceive.

The people's charter insures the truest representative government Atlanta has ever had, in that it provides a councilman from each of the ten wards, but makes the council genuinely representative of Atlanta, in that every voter can ballot on every councilman.

The "five bosses" dodge would be a rich joke, were it not an insult to the intelligence of the voter.

Each one of the five great department heads for the first time in the city's history, will be elected by the people. That smashes bossism.

Regarding the "recall" a deliberate misstatement is made.

The new charter specifically provides that any or all of the five department heads can be recalled by the people. That is the tombstone over smashed bossism—if it needed one!

The trouble is, the foes of the people's charter know that document banishes bossism in Atlanta; that it genuinely enthrones the people. That is where the shoe pinches. There wouldn't be a ripple against the new charter if it kept power in the hands of the politician instead of turning it over to the voter. That's the secret of the desperate fight against the people's charter.

And, speaking of "bosses!" Under the old charter, city government in Atlanta is riddled and ridden with a hundred petty, irresponsible "bosses."

Atlanta is bossed first by council!

Next by council committees!

Next by boards!

Next by cliques in boards, which force policemen and other city employees to neglect city business and "leg" for jobs, as power shifts from one faction to the other!

Next by alleged department heads!

Next by first and second and third and fourth assistant heads, and so on indefinitely, as the average man has found out when he tried to get things done!

The people's charter wipes out all these bosses!

It substitutes just one boss.—

That boss will be—THE PEOPLE!

WHEN THE LABORER IS HURT.

Whether or not it receives legislative attention, the proposal of Governor Woodrow Wilson, at the conference of governors, looking to state liability insurance for employees, is apt to be a fruitful source of national press discussion.

Governor Wilson laid it down as a first premise that many small corporations or employers were unable to adequately protect employees in hazardous occupations. He cited the case of New Jersey, where he says indemnity companies have raised their indemnity rates to the skies because of state laws compelling liberal redress to injured employees.

The principle of employers' liability, per se, is too well established to admit of contention. The old "fellow servant" law, with its cruel oppression of workmen or their widows and children, is a survival of barbarism that will not be tolerated by either the humanitarian or economic sentiment of the twentieth century. For no workman can satisfactorily discharge his duties when there hangs over his head the uncertainty of protection for wife and children, in the event he is crippled or killed by an accident for which he may be in no wise personally responsible.

The government, and virtually all of the states, have recognized these facts, and enacted laws achieving more or less justice in the premises. But the general situation, as Governor Wilson indicates, is far from being adjusted to that standpoint which will assure a square deal, beyond all peradventure or beyond all legal quibble, to the man who toils.

Whether he is to be protected at the expense of his employer or of the state is another question. There is, after all, nothing particularly radical in the proposal of Governor Wilson. For whether the employee be protected by the corporation or the state the cost is eventually borne by society, in whose service he sustains those injuries that cut short or curtail his earning ability.

Talk of this nature at the governor's conference recalls the degree in which the country turns increasingly to justice for the laboring man who undergoes unavoidable risks in its behalf. It inclines more and more to hold toward him the attitude it does toward the soldier, whose loss of life or limb cannot possibly be compensated by the trivial pay he receives as an enlisted man. Meanwhile, it will be well for students of this problem, which everywhere presses for solution, to study the liability and old-age pension systems in vogue in Great Britain and Germany. The latter country has, particularly, worked out a system containing many features worthy of consideration.

STATE-REGULATED COTTON WAREHOUSES.

Considering the importance of the subject to the farmer, the cotton trade and the south generally, The Constitution elsewhere publishes in full the resolutions introduced by Charles J. Haden, of Atlanta, in the recent Southern Cotton Growers' Congress, at Montgomery, and passed unanimously, looking to a chain of state-regulated cotton warehouses throughout the cotton belt.

As will be seen by studying the resolutions, the materializing of the project would entail no expense upon the state. Proceeding upon the plan already in operation in Louisiana, private corporations would erect warehouses of uniform standard and amplitude to house the south's cotton—but these warehouses would be chartered by the state, and be under state supervision and inspection.

The staple stored in them would, of course, be properly bonded. So that a certificate issued by any warehouse would bear the imprimatur of the state. With the confidence inspired by that high authority it would be accepted as collateral for loans in any money market without hesitation or quibble.

It is in evidence that, sooner or later, some plan similar to this one must be effected, if the annual uncertainty regarding a fair price for cotton is to be dissipated. Mr. Haden's plan—which is, in substance, the Louisiana plan—offers a solution appealing to the business man, the farmer and the economist.

TWO JUDGES, RIGHT AND WRONG.

Rare is that controversy in which both parties are right and both wrong. Yet that is the situation in the tabasco warfare between Judge A. W. Fite, of the Cherokee circuit court, and Judge Richard B. Russell, simultaneously judge of the court of appeals and candidate for governor.

"He should either resign from the court or get off the stump," was Judge Fite's reported position in speaking of Candidate-Judge Russell.

"Why didn't Judge Fite resign from the bench when he was a candidate for congress?" comes back Candidate-Judge Russell.

And to this Judge Fite replies that he was misunderstood; that his assertion as to resignation was based on other reasons; that he sees no objection to a judge running for another office and remaining on the bench, "provided he does not neglect his official duties."

Both judges have stated a correct principle, even if we must accept the qualification which Judge Fite attaches to it.

Both judges have violated it, for look at it as we may, there is an incompatibility between the duties of a judge and campaigning for this or that political office which cannot be harmonized.

Judge Fite violated this principle when he sat on the bench of the Cherokee circuit, and at the same time stumped the seventh district for congress.

And Judge Russell is violating the principle in remaining on the appellate bench, second highest tribunal in the state, and simultaneously appealing to the people to make him their governor. His indiscretion is the more notable in that the appellate court is radically in arrears with its work, with a docket that it is striving vainly to overtake.

The people pay their judges salaries to discharge certain duties of paramount importance to the public welfare, not to divide their time between the bench and the stump.

If the judge aspires to another office, that is his right, as a free American citizen. But let him resign first, that his place on the bench may be filled and the law of the land administered free of the distractions and inevitable influences of partisan politics.

For no judge has the right to drag the state's judiciary—as it is unavoidable dragged when he rides one horse as judge and another as candidate—into the mire of personalities and faction. He may be an archangel, and yet be unable to discharge his oath of office with judicial calm, with his mind seething with political ambitions, and possible political favoritisms and hatreds.

Let us hope that the situation emphasized by the Fite-Russell controversy will insure that Georgia has been for the last time subjected to the peril and indignity inherent in judges that are also candidates for another office.

RESOLUTIONS THAT LOOK TO COTTON WAREHOUSE CHAIN

Montgomery, Ala., September 14.—(Special.)—Delegates to the Southern Cotton Growers' Congress just adjourned here, are leaving for home enthusiastic over the prospects for a chain of bonded cotton warehouses throughout the south, under such rigid official state supervision as would make certificates issued by them collateral for loans in any of the world's money markets. They view such a program as solving the annual problem of handling the cotton crop.

The resolutions looking to the materialization of the plan were introduced by C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, and were passed unanimously. Their full text is as follows:

The Resolutions.

"Whereas, Cotton enjoys the highest rank as security for loans above all other commodities and abundant money may be had, both at home and abroad to carry the cotton crop for any reasonable time and at all times provided financiers have confidence that their rights will be protected, and

"Whereas, Private warehouses not under governmental supervision do not as a rule command confidence beyond the personal acquaintance of the proprietors of such warehouses, and

"Whereas, The supervision and inspection of the sovereign authorities, requiring adequate bonds of such warehouses to protect all persons doing such business with such warehouses, duly certified and registered at home and abroad, would command confidence of the financial world and make of cotton a collateral good for loans both in America and in Europe at the lowest current rates of interest.

"Therefore, be it resolved, That the legislatures of the several states do by appropriate legislation, provide for a system of state warehouses, said warehouses to be of the highest modern standard of safety and specially adapted to the storage and handling of domestic products which are required in the interstate and export trade, and particularly for the storage and handling of cotton; that said system embody the following general plan:

"First, That any person, firm or corporation desiring to do a warehouse business under said system, must first construct a warehouse of the standard requirements; must execute and deliver a good and sufficient bond, payable to the governor, in amount to exceed the highest estimated storage capacity of such warehouse, which bond is to indemnify against loss all persons having property stored in such warehouses.

State Supervision.

"Second, That a capable person or persons, selected by the governor, shall be appointed to overlook such warehouse, such appointee to give indemnity bond for the faithful performance of his duty. It shall be the duty of such appointee to inspect the weight, counts and measures of all property, goods and articles deposited in said warehouse, and to certify officially on the warehouse receipt given by said warehouse to its customer, that the property, articles or goods described in said warehouse receipt were actually placed in said warehouse and that the signature of receipts are genuine.

"Third, That all the regulations necessary to effectuate said system to be set forth in the law creating the same, adopting so far as may be practicable the present plan of regulating the national banking system and the plan now in force with reference to bonded whisky warehouses under the national internal revenue law, it being the intent and purpose to give such receipts issued by such warehouses the highest possible rank as security for money advances at lowest rates so growers and shippers may sell whenever they desire and command the markets of the world.

"Fourth, That the name and location of every such warehouse and a copy of the true signatures of its officers and of its official inspectors all be registered with the department of commerce and labor and also with foreign governments and also with domestic and foreign boards of trade, exchanges and banks. And also all other proper precautions to give said warehouses and their receipts full faith and credit in the markets of the world."

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS HOLD GREAT RALLY

Carlisle, Ky., September 14.—The formal opening here today of the campaign of Kentucky's democratic nominees developed into what Governor Thomas B. Marshall, of Indiana, the orator of the day, characterized as the biggest thing he ever saw in the way of a political gathering. The assembled guests of Nicholas county's democrats, estimated at from 20,000 to 30,000, overflowed a twenty-acre field, cleared away barbecued food prepared for 18,000, heard Governor Marshall, James B. McCreery, candidate for governor; Congressman Ollie James, nominee for United States senator, and other nominees of the party, discuss national issues. Six bands contributed to the gaiety.

HOW GOVERNORS STAND ON THE PRESIDENCY

Spring Lake, N. J., September 14.—A newspaper poll of the thirteen republican governors who are here for the governors' conference, as to their preference for the presidential nomination of 1912, shows that they are about equally divided between Taft and La Follette. The Taft supporters are given as Tener, of Pennsylvania; Glasscock, of West Virginia; Willson, of Kentucky; Hay, of Washington, and Pothier, of Rhode Island, while those for La Follette are:

McGovern, of Wisconsin; Carey, of Wyoming; Vessey, of South Dakota; Stubbs, of Kansas, and Aldrich, of Nebraska. Governors Bass, of New Hampshire, and Hadley, of Missouri, are non-committal.

The latter has himself been mentioned as a possible candidate.

On the democratic side Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, and Governor Harmon, of Ohio, are the center of attraction. They are frequently together and were seated side by side in some of the many photographs for which the governors have posed.

Thomas M. King Dead.

New York, September 14.—The death of Thomas M. King, former president of the Baltimore and Ohio, was announced here today. Mr. King died yesterday at his home in Irvington-on-the Hudson in his sixty-seventh year.

CITY NEWS

Voluntary Bankruptcy.—J. St. Julian Yates, Sr., a real estate man of Kirkwood, has filed a voluntary plea of bankruptcy in the United States court, setting his liabilities at $2,232.51.

Looking for George Beanham.—Howard Beanham, said to have an uncle, George Beanham, in this city, is dead in the Columbus, Ga., hospital, and his body is being held until relatives can be found. J. T. Moore, chief of police of Columbus, has asked the assistance of Chief Beavers in locating George Beanham. So far the search has been unsuccessful.

Bankruptcy Petition Against W. Sid Holland.—Creditors of W. Sid Holland, the haberdasher, yesterday filed a petition for involuntary bankruptcy, declaring that Mr. Holland's indebtedness amounts to $1,000. He admits his insolvency, says the petition, which was filed by Oppenheimer, Franc & Langsdorf, of New York; Marietta Knitting Mills, Marietta, and the Peter Hill Company, of Atlanta.

Garbage Can Violation.—Alderman F. J. Spratling appeared in police court yesterday afternoon in defense of James Anastopulos, a Greek restaurant keeper, charged with violating the garbage can ordinance, while Alderman Arthur H. Van Dyke assisted Chief Jentzen in the prosecution. The man was fined $10 and costs. The principal witnesses were several tenants of thte Grant building and the superintendent of the building. They testified to evil odors from the restaurant chimneys which no one seems to have been able to correct.

Looking for Cheshire.—J. L. Cheshire, a cabinetmaker, who came to Atlanta from Texas some years ago, is being sought by his brother-in-law, Dr. O. F. Bonham, and other relatives, who have not heard from him in two years. They have appealed to the local police for aid. Cheshire is said to be about 50 years old, of medium height, and is a cabinetmaker or machinist, by trade. His former home was near Highland Home, Ala. His relatives, including Dr. Bonham, are living at Sabinal, Texas.

Negro Is Collared.—Clarence Peavy, a young negro 16 years old, played a hit and run game yesterday afternoon, when he laid open the head of a man in a Decatur street shooting gallery and then attempted to beat out pursuers up Piedmont avenue. L. R. Williams, an insurance man, collared the fugitive near Warren Place, and he was turned over to an officer.

Wins a Touring Car.—Sergeant and Mrs. John C. Joiner yesterday received word that their 16-year-old granddaughter, Miss Marie Kerr, of Canton, N. C., had won a handsome touring car in the circulation contest of The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen. The car is a 1912 Chalmers, costing $1,750. Miss Kerr is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kerr. Her vote in the contest was more than half a million ahead of her nearest competitor.

Autos Strike Vehicles.—Automobiles collided with two farm vehicles yesterday, breaking the leg of one mule and badly skinning up a horse. At Peachtree street and Peachtree Place an out-of-town machine tried to pass the wagon of N. N. Morris, who lives north of the city, and struck the front wheel, knocking the mule out into the center of the street. The automobile then ran into the mule, breaking its ankle. The machine is said to have come from Conyers, Ga. At Butler and Decatur streets a motor oil delivery wagon collided with a horse and buggy belonging to J. A. Hicks, who lives five miles north of Decatur. The police say the oil wogan "cut" the corner, going into Butler street and violated the rules of the road. No cases have been made.

Rescued From "Red Lights."—A 15-year-old girl, who was in the "red light" district of the city after being here only four days, was yesterday rescued by officers of the children's court and taken to the police station prior to being sent to her people. She says she is Eva Lewis, of Charleston, S. C. According to officers of the court, the girl came to Atlanta from Macon last Monday. She was found in a house on Manhattan avenue. She has relatives in Dawson, Ga., it is said.

SAFEGUARDS ON PEOPLE'S MONEY COME DIRECT FROM OLD CHARTER

Searching in frenzied fashion for material with which to criticise the new charter, its opponents have time and again tripped themselves. They have been clamoring that the new charter, which is the people's charter, did not sufficiently safeguard city finances.

Had they studied both old and new charters with the zeal that should be exhibited by even self-professed "friends of the people," they would have seen they were dealing the old system to which they cling a greater body blow than the new system.

For—the iron-clad safeguards of the people's money outlined in the new charter are taken, verbatim, from the old charter. So that, carping at the provisions made for protection of public finances under the people's charter, they, by implication, indict the old system which they have held to contain the ultima thule of municipal government.

They didn't know this, of course. They simply lost their heads in their eagerness to prejudice the average man against the new charter. They ought to study both charters and realize that this finance-hedging provision is just one clause of the 90 per cent of the old charter which stays intact in the new one.

The Constitution displayed that feature of the new charter as one demonstration that it was composed, by an overwhelming percentage, of the better elements of the old charter. If the opponents of the new charter jumped to the conclusion that the publication of this feature of the new charter carried with it any inference that was not intended they simply arraigned themselves with the enemies of good government.

Here are the provisions in the people's charter that put a stone wall around the people's money—the same being taken in full from the old charter:

"Books must be kept showing in detail the amounts paid out, to whom paid, and for which department. Money received shall show what the amount is, from whom received, and when. Books shall carry acounts with each department showing the moneys realized by each department and the amount paid out by that department, and these books shall be kept so as to check each department against all other departments and the city as a whole. A separate account shall be carried of every appropriation made by the administrative board, the amount thereof, the date, the purpose for which it is made, and the department to which it is allotted. Receipts shall be taken from persons to whom money is paid which shall show the amount, the department to which the payment belongs, and the name and street address of the recipient. Monthly detailed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the city shall be sworn to and filed with the clerk. All moneys paid out must be upon a voucher issued by the comptroller upon requisition by the head of the department, and all checks signed by the mayor and countersigned by the comptroller.

"A budget is made up by the entire administrative board based upon the reasonable estimate of the revenue of the city. The board shall apportion and allot to each department a certain amount. No department can spend more, or enter into any contract to spend more, than is allotted to that department, and the budget must show the exact purposes for which the money thus allotted the department is to be spent.—From the lawyers' committee's synopsis of the new charter."

JUDGE FITE ELUCIDATES HIS ATTACK ON RUSSELL

As was anticipated, Judge Augustus W. Fite, of the Cherokee circuit, has elucidated his recent critical comment upon the course of Judge Richard B. Russell, of the state court of appeals bench, and candidate for governor.

Judge Fite, who said Judge Russell "should resign from the court or get off the stump," and to whom Judge Russell retorted that he had evidently changed his views since he ran for congress and remained on the bench at the same time, now declares that he meant no such thing—that is, he did not mean what seems to have been understood by Judge Russell and his friends.

In other words, Judge Fite thinks it is all right for a judge to remain on the bench and still run for governor, congress or any other political job he may fancy. Judge Fite qualifies this in his comeback at Judge Russell, however, with the statement, "provided he does not neglect his official duties."

Judge Fite contends that he ran for congress without neglecting his official duties on the bench; whether or not Judge Russell is neglecting his official duties in his race for governor, Judge Fite does not know, but, if he is, he thinks he should give up one or the other.

What Judge Fite Did Mean.

What Judge Fite really did mean in his criticism of Judge Russell's course, as he states in a reply to the latter, was that Judge Russell had no right to make prohibition an issue, condemn the prohibition law, declare that it cannot be enforced, and still remain on the bench.

Judge Fite contends that if such is the view which Judge Russell takes of the prohibition law, then he should either resign his position on the bench or get off the stump.

Here is the way Judge Fite states it, having presented which, it is Judge Russell's next move:

"Judge Russell seems to have misunderstood my interview. I did not criticise him for running for governor without resigning the judgeship, for I have always contended that an official, even a judge, has the right to run for another office without resigning, if he can do so without neglecting his official duties; but if he cannot, then he should either resign or not run.

"I don't know whether Judge Russell is neglecting his official duties or not, and, therefore, have not criticised him for running without resigning.

"The fact is, I thought very well of his candidacy until he made the liquor question an issue in the campaign, and began criticising and condemning our prohibition laws, which he, as judge, is sworn to uphold and enforce; I criticised him for doing this without resigning the judgeship, and, therefore, repeat:

"He should either resign from the court or get off the stump.

"My criticism of the court of appeals referred mainly to cases reversed on the facts, in most of which Judge Powell dissented."

GEORGIA SAVINGS BANK HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

George M. Brown Elected President, John Grant Vice President.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Georgia Savings Bank held yesterday, all officers and directors were re-elected for another term, the usual annual dividend of 4 per cent was declared, and $10,000 was added to the surplus fund, making the fund a total of $108,380.

The officers of the bank are: George M. Brown, president; John W. Grant, vice president, and Joseph E. Bastain, secretary and treasurer. The directors are Joseph A. McCord, Arnold Broyles, John W. Grant, Fred B. Law, George M. Brown, E. A. Brown and John L. Tye.

WORK DAY FOR ORPHANS SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

Saturday, September 30, will be "Work Day" for the orphan children of Georgia, and Rev. H. L. Crumley, of the Decatur Orphans' Home, has made an earnest plea for the hearty and enthusiastic support of all "who love their own children."

The request is that every man, woman, and child give one day's earnings to the orphan children of the state, and September 30 has been set for donation.

"Work hard on 'Work Day'," says Mr. Crumley, "and carry your gifts to the nearest Sunday school, where collections will be taken on Sunday, October 1."

To care for the destitute and orphan children, says Mr. Crumley in his plea, is to prevent the spread of sickness, to discourage beggary and thievery, for which in the long run the public always the bills. "And they grow heavier every year," says the minister.

"So if not for the love of friendless little children," pleads the orphan's friend, "for the sake of the public and individual good, help the children by giving them your earnings for September 30."

ERIC HARBEN'S BURIAL TO BE HELD AT DALTON

On Account of Mrs. Harben's Illness, Parents Can't Attend the Funeral.

Dalton, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) The remains of little Eric Harben will be buried here. The body was shipped from New York Wednesday night at 9 o'clock and is expected to reach here Friday morning.

Immediately upon arrival the remains will be taken to the home of Colonel and Mrs. W. C. Martin, where the funeral obsequies will be held. The interment will be in West Hill in the family grounds. Mrs. Harben was prostrated at the death of her son and her condition is such that Mr. Harben could not leave her. The arrangements here will be looked after by Colonel Martin, Mr. Robert Loveman, Mr. Julian McCamp and other friends of the family, which are numerous. The death of the little boy was the result of an operation for appendicitis. The services at the home of Colonel Martin will be brief, but appropriate.

EXTRAVAGANT SOLONS RAPPED BY JOE HALL

Legislator, in Dublin Speech, Opposes Increasing Governor's Borrowing Power.

Dublin, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Joe Hill Hall delivered an address at the courthouse in this city this afternoon in opposition to the constitutional amendment to increase the borrowing power of the governor to $500,000, and the amendment to collect taxes from public service corporations earlier than from other taxpayers.

He characterized one amendment as dangerous and the other as absurd and foolish.

He spoke for nearly an hour and dealt mainly with the extravagance of the legislature.

A fair-sized crowd gave Mr. Hall good attention.

He was introduced by Judge J. E. Burch, who served with Mr. Hall for two years in the general assembly.

JURIES LOCKED UP TILL THEY AGREE

Judge Hodges, of the Macon City Court, Tires of Disagreements.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) The notification from Judge Hodges that all juries will be kept out indefinitely until they agreed upon a verdict, either of guilt or acquittal, has changed conditions in the city court in the trial of prohibition cases. Following the conviction of Mrs. Flahive, a jury found John McGinty guilty of keeping whisky at his place of business, and he was fined $200. In addition, his license will be forfeited by council. The only evidence against a majority of the remaining forty defendants is that they kept the liquor in their stores.

George Jackson, a negro was convicted and sentenced to serve one month in jail and to pay a fine of $350. The judge directed verdicts of not guilty in the cases of J. D. Long and C. H. Douglass.

Steel Cars For Central.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) Advices received today by Master Mechanic Fetner are to the effect that the thirteen all-steel passenger coaches now being constructed for the Central of Georgia railway at Pullman, Ill., will be delivered here between October 10 and 15. The arrival of these cars presages the ultimate abolition of the old style wooden coaches. The new equipment will be used between Atlanta and Savannah and on the Montgomery line.

Reunion Dates Satisfactory.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) The reunion dates, as announced by Adjutant General Mickle, are very satisfactory to the local committees and veterans. It is believed that the weather here in Man, about the 7th, 8th and 9th, will be cool and delightful.

"Dempsey," Macon's New Hotel.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) It has been decided that the name of Macon's new half-millian dollar hotel shall be the "Dempsey," as a tribute to the memory of one of Macon's former prominent citizens, Captain Dempsey, upon the property of whose estate the structure will be erected.

William Ezell Dead.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) William Ezell, for twenty-three years a bookkeeper here, died this morning at Byron, Ga., after a prolonged illness. He leaves a wife and four children; a brother, Robert Ezell, of Byron; two sisters, Mrs. Clay Bateman, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Wallace Peavy, of Byron. He was highly esteemed here.

Death of Mrs. Jarrell.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) Mrs. Nancy A. Jarrell, widow of the late John Jarrell, died this morning at her home at Round Oak, Ga., in her seventy-seventh year. She had been an invalid for many years. She leaves seven children, one of whom is Mrs. J. T. James, of Macon, and three brothers. One of the latter is Richard F. Burden, of this city. The funeral services were held from the residence, in Jones county, this afternoon.

COOLER WEATHER, SAYS ATLANTA FORECASTER

Mercury Took a Drop of Several Degrees on Thursday.

Fair and cooler weather is promised for Atlanta and vicinity today.

According to the weather man the mercury registered several degrees lower than has been the custom of recent date and the weather was tolerable with 81 degrees. The prospects are that fall is about to be in our midst once more.

A NIGHT FALL.

"It is a strong bed that will hold two whales," said the Gopher. "That, of course, is not intended as a reflection on anybody's weight, but it goes to show that it never pays to overtax the strength of anything.

"Two young ladies of Atlanta have good cause to remember this important fact. There were four of them rooming together—two thin ones and two that were somewhat over weight. The two heavy ones went to church one night and the two 'thins' got to bed first and got in the same bed. That left the other bed for the two 'heavies.' And the combination was more than the one lone bed would stand for. It is reported that it required the services of two plumbers and a carpenter to rescue them from the wreckage after the bed folded up."

17 AUTOS MAKE TRIP THOMASVILLE TO GULF

Thomasville, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Seventeen autos made the trip from Thomasville to St. Marks today, arriving at the Florida resort about 9 o'clock. A delightful trip down the St. Marys river to the gulf was enjoyed and fishing parties enjoyed themselves until Frank Duval spread a good old-fashioned country dinner at 1:30 o'clock.

Several impromptu speeches were made and a rousing toast to the genial master of the resort on the gulf was given. The trip back was made without accident, not even a puncture being recorded over the smooth roads of the gulf. The distance of 68 miles was easily traversed in three hours and a half.

C. Dewees Berry Dead.

Fairfield, Conn., September 14.—C. Dewees Berry, a prominent attorney of Nashville, Tenn., and a graduate of Yale in the class of 1868, is dead at the home of friends here, from apoplexy. He was 67 years old.

DECATUR WILL WELCOME SONS AND DAUGHTERS HOME

October 12 will be a red letter day in the history of Decatur. Her sons and daughters from far and near are invited to come home on that day. Elaborate preparations are being made to welcome the homecomers.

The first annual DeKalb county fair will be held from October 10 to 14, in Decatur. Every day will be full of interest.

The Decatur Board of Trade has officially indorsed the project. A special committee of the board, composed of S. B. McKinney, G. B. Scott and W. J. Dabney, is working in conjunction with a committee of the DeKalb County Farmers' Union, composed of R. S. Hunter, R. F. Smith, C. O. Smith, C. C. Childress and J. R. Rosser, to make the fair a complete success.

One of the most interesting days of the fair will be Decatur's Homecoming day. Governor Smith has been invited to be present and has consented to come if possible. Congressman William Schley Howard will make an address on the subject of good roads. Railroad Commissioner C. M. Candler, Hon. Hooper Alexander and George M. Napier, master of the grand lodge of Georgia Masons, have agreed to speak on this occasion. Secretary W. T. Wakefield, of the state chamber of commerce, will speak in behalf of the state chamber. Mayor John A. Montgomery will deliver an address of welcome in behalf of the town. The speakers will all be introduced by Charles D. McKinney, president of the Decatur Board of Trade.

In the meanwhile, the Civic Beauty Committee is urging the people of Decatur to get ready for Decatur's guests, and is actively co-operating with the mayor and council in all the efforts being made to improve the town.

The committee is composed of M. I. Stone, chairman, W. H. S. Hamilton, C. V. Arnold, W. M. Baker, J. M. Worsham, C. J. Metz, Guy Webb, N. P. Pratt, Emmett Hight, J. S. Kennedy, E. E. Treadwell, B. F. Burgess, R. B. Ridley, Jr., T. L. Cooper, C. B. Scott, Wiley Ansley, E. H. Wilson, J. F. Green, Brooks G. Brown, J. A. Hall, P. F. Callahan.

The committee will hold an informal meeting tonight at the council chamber.

Equally as active is the Ladies' Auxiliary Committee, composed of Mrs. H. J. Williams, chairman, Mrs. H. G. Hastings, Mrs. T. N. Fulton, Mrs. Nellie S. Candler, Mrs. T. L. Cooper, Mrs. Hooper Alexander, Mrs. W. W. McKown, Mrs. Florie Bennett, Mrs. E. K. Hunter, Mrs. Jennie Finley, Mrs. Harvey Parry, Mrs. George Kellogg, Mrs. W. J. Dabney, Mrs. J. E. Scofield, Mrs. Ben Burgess, Mrs. W. H. S. Hamilton, Mrs. Guy Webb, Mrs. H. S. Rowland, Miss Gertrude Brown, Miss Louise Colzy, Miss Annie Ansley, Mrs. J. G. Addy, Mrs. E. L. Gardner, Mrs. W. O. Martin, Mrs. Drury Powers, Mrs. W. M. Worsham, Mrs. Lewis Pratt, Miss Claudia Brightwell, Mrs. B. T. Daniel.

This committee will hold an important meeting at the home of Mrs. M. I. Stone next Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. This committee is devoting special effort toward beautifying the yards and getting rid of "eyesores" on the streets and improving the general sanitary conditions of the town.

The week preceding October 12 will be known as "cleaning-up week."

DAILY FASHION HINTS

FEATHERS ARE THE CRAZE ON FALL HATS.

Paris millinery is loaded with handsome ostrich plumage and the favored plumes now are the short, thick Prince o' Wales tips which are more fashionable that the long adored willow feathers. The hat pictured is a graceful shape of violet velvet with a rolled-up brim which has a most charming slant over the face. At the right side of the hat—a position once out of the question for hat trimming—is a cluster of Prince o' Wales tips in shaded volet tones.

Informal Dance.

On last Saturday evening the Hyperion club entertained at a very delightful informal dance, at their club rooms in West End in compliment to a number of young ladies.

The guests of the occasion were, Misses Annie Ray, Emma Jordan, Sarah Sasnett, Ada Eaves, Carrie Parish, Ina Lyons, Edwina Harper, Sapho Thrash, Arnold Rollston, Ruth Ross; Messrs. Pope Parrish, Milton Gathright, Lacy Dalhouse, Morris Andrews, Walter Arnold, Jr. The chaperons were, Mrs. Harvie Jordan, Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. C L. Lipscomb.

For Miss Ellis.

Mrs. Rutherford Lipscomb was hostess yesterday afternoon at a delightful bridge party at her home on Peachtree street, given in honor of her niece, Miss Adgate Ellis, who leaves today for Hollins Institute.

The house was attractively decorated with ferns and roses.

Mrs. Ellis wore a white marquisette and Miss Ellis wore a white lingerie gown.

After the game delicious refreshments were served at the card tables.

Miss Elizabeth Tuller won the prize, silk stockings, for top score, and Miss Lydia McBride cut the consolation prize, which was a shirtwaist ring.

Miss Ellis was given a beautiful silver picture frame.

Thornton-Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Forrester Thornton, of Greensboro, Ga., have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Sarah Lee, to Mr. William Reid Jackson, Jr., the marriage to take place at the Methodist church in Greensboro at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, September 26.

Miss Thornton has frequently been an admired visitor in Atlanta. She was the guest in June of Miss Sarah Lee Evins during the convention of the Alpha Delta Phi Sorority, of which she is a prominent member.

Mr. Jackson is prominent in both the social and business world. He is well known in Atlanta, where he is a member of several of the leading clubs.

After a wedding journey east the bride and groom will be at home in Greensboro.

Going to Arizona.

Mr. O. H. Jones, one of Atlanta's most prominent young business men and popular in social and club circels, will leave in a few days for Phenix, Arizona, to spend the winter. Mr. Jones has been indisposed for some weeks and his physician ordered the change. He will be accompanied by his wife and baby. Mr. Jones has for some years been manager of the city sales department of the Beck-Gregg Hardware Company.

Bridge Party and Handkerchief Shower.

A delightful event of yesterday afternoon was the bridge party followed by a handkerchief shower given by Mrs. Harry Marsh Smith in honor of Miss J. Anita Morgan, a bride-elect.

Bowls of pink and white roses decorated the rooms where the game was played.

Mrs. Smith was assisted in entertaining by Miss Lucile Withers and Mrs. J. D. Collins, Jr.

Mrs. Smith received her guests wearing a green chiffon gown. Miss Withers wore a white embroidered marquisette, and Mrs. Collins' gown was blue batiste.

The guest of honor was charming in a hand embroidered mull, trimmed in Irish lace.

The prizes were silk stockings and a deck of cards. After the game delicious refreshments were served.

A number of beautiful handkerchiefs were received by the bride-elect.

Dinner Party for Mrs. Vidmar.

Mr. Edward Austin entertained very delightfully at dinner last evening at the Driving Club in honor of Mrs. George Vidmar, of Fort Oglethorpe, who is the attractive guest of Lieutenant and Mrs. Emil Laurson.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. Valdemar Gude entertained at a delightful informal bridge party yesterday morning at her home at East Lake, the guests of the occasion including only East Lake friends.

The game was played on the porch and at the conclusion of the game a delicious luncheon was served.

The prize for top score was won by Mrs. Geddings Tupper and the consolation was cut by Mrs. H. Clay Moore.

Mrs. Gude was gowned for the morning in white linen. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Halahan and Miss Sallie Cobb Johnson.

Mrs. Gude will entertain again at bridge next week.

Ladies' Auxiliary Reception.

The quarterly reception extended by Mrs. C. Lee McHan at her home, 78 Angier avenue, to the ladies' auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association, this afternoon, (Friday), at 3:30 o'clock, will be one of unusual interest.

Mrs. J. A. Forsyth has arranged the following program:

Solos by Mrs. W. S. Yates and Mrs. B. S. McCash:

Readings by Mrs. Robert Blackburn and Miss Sarah Adelle Eastlack;

Piano solos by Misses Maud and Edith Couch.

Mrs. T. O. Lovelace and Mrs. W. H. McClain have arranged for other pleasant features of entertainment of all members and friends.

Miss Mona Clark and Miss Kate Fenton will serve at the punch bowl. Miss Ruble Gaffney, Miss Mildred Harris, Miss Esther Bulloch, Miss Grace Gaffney and Miss Angie Harding, will serve refreshments.

There will be reports of special committees to be made that the members cannot afford to miss hearing. All the lady friends of the auxiliary will be welcomed.

School Books Needed.

School books for the first four grammar grades are needed at Wesley House for many of the large number of pupils who were enrolled this week, and it is requested that anyone having second-hand books suitable for these grades will kindly contribute them. They may be left at Carlton's shoe store on Whitehall street.

A Call for Books.

Mrs. Samuel Bowman, chairman of the library committee of the Atlanta Woman's Club, asks for Wentworth's arithmetics for the girl's night school. Those having even one book to give will please phone Ivy 2931-J.

MEETINGS

The first fall meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Sunday school room. A large attendance is desired.

Electa Chapter, No. 6, O. E. S., meets this evening, September 15, at 8 o'clock, at Masonic Temple, corner Peachtree and Cain streets. Degrees will be conferred. Visiting members in good standing are cordially welcome.

The first fall meeting of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will be held today (Friday), September 15, at 3:30 p. m. at the home of the honorary regent, Mrs. W. L. Peel, 469 Peachtree street.

HOW SHE SAVED HER LIFE.

You cannot afford to go home from the mountains and spend the month of September in central and south Goergia cities. The most ideal place in Georgia to spend the month of September is at the famous Warm Springs, Meriwether county. It will be kept open until October or longer. Stop by on your way home and stay a week or two. Cool climate, clean and beautiful grounds; 1,250 feet above the sea, and the finest swimming pool and baths in the United States.

REAL ESTATE MEN'S CLUB WILL BANQUET TONIGHT

The Atlanta Real Estate Men's Association will give its second annual banquet at the Cafe Durand at 6:30 o'clock this evening, and it is believed that every prominent real estate firm in the city will be represented by one or more men. Every detail of the program has been worked out and everything is in readiness for the banquet, which is expected to easily eclipse the former dinner given by the club.

Organized only a little more than one year ago, the Atlanta Real Estate Men's Club has already taken its place among the prominent business organizations of the city. When the national organization met in Denver, Col., several months ago, the local club was represented by six delegates who made a strong fight to bring the next national meeting here. And, although they failed in this, they made such an impression that they were given to understand that Atlanta is to get the national club before much longer.

Agnes Scott College
Agnes Scott Academy

Both institutions will open September 21 at 10 o'clock a. m. Dormitories will not be open before the 20th.

The classification committee of the college will meet in the college Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week (18th, 19th and 20th) from 10 o'clock to 1 p. m.

The classification committee of the Academy will meet in the academy the same days and hours.

The registration is far in advance of any previous year. There are still a small number of vacancies in the dormitories. Day students should register at once.

For information address the President, Decatur, Ga. Phone No. 4, Decatur Exchange.

Diamonds

Our policy in diamonds is to put into a necklace or a ring, for instance, the class of stones which mean, each one of them, an individual value.

Chosen also with careful regard to one another, they make, thus, one perfect ornament and a value of double strength.

EATONTON SCHOOLS HAVE FINE OPENING

Eatonton, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—The fall term of the Eatonton public schools opened with a splendid attendance. The faculty in charge this year is composed of Professor Dennis Reid, superintendent; assistants, Miss Claire Greene, of Milledgeville; Miss Maggie Belle Thaxton, of Jackson; Miss May Tweedy, of Dawson; Miss Sybil Wicner, of Carlton; Miss Georgia Jenkins, Miss Fannie Lee Leverette, Mrs. Annie E. Supple and Mrs. Annie Wingfield Nisbet, of Eatonton. The music department is under the charge of Mrs. Maggie Lambdin and Miss Lillian Horne. The Eatonton schools are among the accredited schools of the state univeristy, whose graduates are admitted to Georgia's colleges without examination.

Albany Schools Overtaxed.

Albany, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—The Albany public schools will open Monday, and present indications are that the attendance will be by far the largest in the history of the city. It is probable that the Albany academy, the largest of the white schools, will have its capacity badly overtaxed.

"The Capital City"

The making of synonyms is usually a matter for the dictionary folks and the language highbrows.

But we have made a synonym ourselves.

We have made "The Capital City" mean clean clothes, careful laundering, prompt work, and absolute efficiency in point of service.

So, that when you hear the very frequent admonition "Wash at the Capital City," you know what's what.

Send us the thing you want cleaned—if you want it cleaned right.

2,500 TONS PIG IRON CARGO OF WHATELY HALL

Largest Cargo of Its Kind Ever Forwarded Through Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—With a cargo of eighty-five carloads of pig iron, weighing in the neighborhood of 2,500 tons, the big whaleback British steamship Whately Hall cleared today for Swansea, Wales. This is a record for the largest single cargo of its kind ever forwarded through the port of Savannah.

The cargo of the Whately Hall was brought to Savannah from Ensley, Ala., just outside of Birmingham, over the Central railway system, being transported from the ore mills on five solid trains. The vessel completed its cargo with general merchandise.

The big shipment of pig iron was made by the United States Steel Products Company, of New York, from the mills at Ensley.

GLIDDEN TOUR SCOUTS REACH ATLANTA TODAY

Two "Flanders 20" Reach Anderson After 161-Mile Run.

Anderson, S. C., September 14.—After a run of 161 miles today from Charlotte the two "Flanders 20" scout cars of the A. A. A. Glidden tour, arrived here at 6:20 o'clock this evening to spend the night.

Tomorrow a luncheon stop will be made at Commerce, Ga., and the scouts expect to arrive in Atlanta late in the afternoon.

New Bank at Camilla.

Albany, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Albanians are interested in a new bank which is to be organized tomorrow night at Camilla, the county seat of Mitchell conty. That section of the county is now exceedingly prosperous, and the need of another bank at Camilla has been demonstrated.

WHAT CAUSES FRECKLES, AND HOW THEY MAY BE COMPLETELY REMOVED.

Wilson's Freckle Cream Does the Work, or Your Money Refunded.

The medical profession tell us that freckles are caused by a deposit of pigment in numerous small areas, although the actual reason for these deposits having formed has never been discovered. The old fallacy, once freckled, always freckled, has not held true since the discovery of Wilson's Freckle Cream.

Miss Lucile Scott, of Scotia, S. C., recently wrote us as follows: "I have used many things to get rid of my freckles, but I have never found anything so good as Wilson's Freckle Cream. I cannot say enough for it."

This is a mild face bleach, and is positively guaranteed to cure freckles, pimples and blackheads. It leaves the skin smooth and soft as velvet, imparting a healthful glow and youthful radiance.

The first jar of Wilson's Freckle Cream will cause your freckles to perceptibly fade, and the second jar will entirely remove them. Should it fail to do so, your druggist is authorized to return you your money. If he cannot supply you, send 50 cents to Wilson's Freckle Cream Company, Charleston, S. C., and we will mail you a full size jar.

This is the only real way to get rid of freckles.

ATLANTA GIRLS ANSWERED AD.

But None Accepted Offer of Ybor City Theater—Proprietor Arrested.

Tampa, Fla., September 14.—Charging a violation of the federal statute which seeks to prohibit the trafficking in girls, L. Athanasaw was placed under $1,000 bond here today on a warrant sworn out by the Woman's Home and Hospital.

Athanasaw is proprietor of the Imperial Theater in Ybor City. It is a vaudeville house with wine rooms attached. The specific charge against him is that through advertisements in an Atlanta paper he interested young girls of that city and surrounding country to come here and go on the stage for a fancy salary.

The name of a Miss Couch appears in the warrant. She has been living in Atlanta, but her home is at Senoia, Ga. She was rescued by the superintendent of the Woman's Home and Hospital.

Five other Atlanta girls answered the advertisements, but none of them went to work.

Miss Couch said she was employed by an agent in Atlanta who paid her fare here. She told the authorities she was forced to smoke cigarettes, drink and importune men to drink, and to submit to other indignities.

GEORGIANS SAVED FROM AWFUL FATE

Party Who Sought Fortune in Honduras Rescued by a Fruit Steamer.

New Orleans, September 14.—Two heads of families, four women and seventeen children, survivors of a party of twenty-eight which left Polk county, Florida, and south Georgia some time ago to try their fortunes near Ceiba, Honduras, were rescued from fever, pestilence and starvation and brought here today by a United Fruit steamer without cost. They were found penniless at Ceiba, where a small collection was taken up to feed the almost famished colonists. Five of their number had died of fever in Honduras.

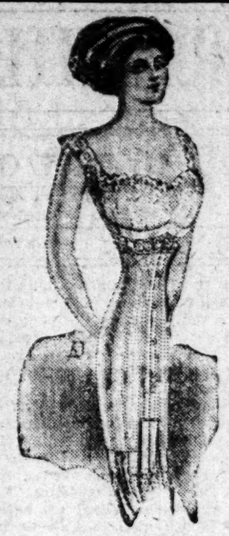
Those landed here today were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lee and five children, aged 2 to 17; one, aged 15, ill with fever; from Florida, Mrs. Matt Tucker and seven children, aged 2 months to 22 years, all of Tifton, Ga.; William R. Brown and five children, aged 2 to 9 years; Mrs. Sophia Lindsey, aged 69; her daughter, Mrs. Alice Bailey, aged 31, and baby, aged 2 years, from Florida.

Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Bailey, both ill with fever, were sent to the hospital.

Matt Tucker died of fever June 27; A. J. Lindsey, husband of Mrs. Sophie Lindsey, died August 17; Mrs. William R. Brown, sister of Mrs. Bailey, died June 22; two children, names not given, also died of fever.

Eighteen members of the colony were down with fever at one time, said Brown, and they had practically nothing when the chance came to get away.

The colonists will be sent to Tampa.



Eloise Corsets New Fall Models

$2 and $3.50

It is your opportunity for Today and Saturday to purchase splendid Fall models of the Eloise Corset for $2.00 and $3.50--these being our regular $3.50 and $5.00 Corsets.

There is surely some particular reason for doing so, when an offer of this kind is made in the first of the season when everything is new--and certainly it isn't profit.

We have a reason, and it is this: Every corset that goes out of our store is the best advertisement we know of for the corsets we sell.

The Eloise Corset is less expensive--to us and to you--than the Mme. Mariette, and yet it is made by the same people and modeled on the same splendid lines.

Those who have already known the Mme. Mariette corset will appreciate the Eloise. It is that we want you to know and appreciate this corset that we are going to sell Our New Fall Models--both extreme and medium low busts--at much less than regular.

$5.00 Eloise Models $3.50.

OPIUM SMOKER UNDER ARREST

Police Believe Chisholm Had Been Conducting Opium-Smoking Joint.

A complete opium outfit was seized at 33½ South Broad street this morning at 1 o'clock, when Charley Chisholm and R. H. Hill were arrested there, charged with disorderly conduct, which the police say will develop into a charge of conducting an opium-smoking joint.

Chisholm resides at 33½ South Broad street, and says that Hill, who lives in West View, was visiting him when the arrest was made. Both were carried to police station along with Chisholm's 7-year-old boy, who could not be left alone in the building.

The police secured from Chisholm's place three opium pipes, a large amount of opium, opium lamps, opium dregs, several dice, a quantity of quicksilver and a pair of delicate money scales. All were confiscated as evidence. Officers say Chisholm has been conducting an opium-smoking joint for some time.

Chisholm denies the charges, but admits that he is an inveterate opium smoker, and has been addicted to the drug for several years. He states that Hill had not used any opium whatever.

WITH CINDER COLONY

P. B. Hampton, city passenger agent of the Seaboard, who has been spending his vacation in New York, Atlantic City and South Carolina, will return to work today.

The prominent passenger officials who were in the city Tuesday and Wednesday for the purpose of arranging passenger tariffs have all returned to their headquarters. During the meetings which were held in the office of Joseph Richardson, president of the Southeastern Passenger Association, there were upwards of 25 of the best known passenger men in the south present.

Milton Smith, assistant general passenger agent of the L. & N., with headquarters in Louisville, left the city late Wednesday night after a two-days stop in Atlanta.

Hubert E. Osborne, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco, with headquarters here, is now working the territory in and around Nashville, Knoxville and other Tennessee cities. He has been out of the city for a week and will not return for about three weeks.

J. N. Cornatzer, of Memphis, assistant general passenger agent of the Frisco, made a business trip to the city Wednesday. With him were L. B. Washington, district passenger agent of the Frisco at Jacksonville, and T. H. Glascock, traveling passenger agent of the Frisco at Nashville.

F. J. Parmalee, traveling passenger agent of the C., H. & D., with headquarters here, is spending the week in "the territory."

G. L. Word, general southern agent of the Wabash here, left the city yesterday morning for a trip through his territory. He will be away the remainder of the week.

Colonist rates on the big transcontinental lines go into effect today and there is every indication that a big business will be done by the local offices of these western lines. The rates are more than one-third lower than the regular rates and many who are compelled to make a trip west about this time have been waiting for these reductions.

P. J. Brown, late of Atlanta, as chief clerk to A. J. Dutcher, of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific blew in yesterday from Birmingham wearing a smile a yard wide and the title of traveling freight and passenger agent. Apparently, Slagtown agrees with "Sunny Jim" for he admits to a rise both in finances and importance, quite an admission for so modest a man. There isn't any joke about the promotion, however, Mr. Brown will be in the city for several days.

V. C. Mason, commercial agent of the Illinois Central, is spending his vacation at Murphy, N. C., where, he writes, he is having a glorious time. He will return the first of next week.

HAS SHACKELFORD GOT COMMISSION?

West's Friends Charge That He Hasn't—Shackelford Says He Has Authority.

Athens, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) It is now charged openly by friends of Judge Henry West, of the city court of Athens, that Col. T. J. Shackelford has never received his commission from Governor Smith. He has not yet qualified, but he states that he will "likely take the oath Saturday." When asked point blank by the newspaper representative today if he had received his commission, Colonel Shackelford would not positively so state, but evaded by replying, "I have the authority as judge, all right."

The chairman of the board of commissioners of Clarke county stated today that he will not sign a warrant for any pay of the salary of judge of the city court for the time from the 13th of September till it is settled as to who is entitled to the checks. He will pay Judge West for eleven days and then hold up payment.

Another Sensation Promised.

About thirteen thousand dollars' worth of costs charged on the "insolvent" cost account against the county by the solicitor of the city court of Athens is going to stir up another sensation soon in Athens. Representative DuBose pushed to passage a local measure changing the payment of the solicitor from the fee system to a salary of $1,500 a year—saving, he stated, from three to four thousand a year to the county; a reduction of a thousand more was made in the judge's salary. The new regime goes into effect this week.

The board of commissioners who asked the passage of a local bill relative to the officers' costs in this county state that their construction is that the county gets the balance of fines, and the insolvent cost bill cannot be paid off in the manner hitherto in vogue. The case will be brought soon to a test, and there may be developments which will be of vital interest to all the solicitors in the state.

MORTUARY

Mrs. J. H. Patrick.

Mrs. J. H. Patrick, aged 40 years, of Montezuma, Ga., died last night at 11 o'clock in a private sanitarium. The body was removed to the Greenberg & Bond establishment, and funeral arrangements will be made upon the arrival of relatives.

Mrs Susie Yancey.

Miss Susie Yancey, aged 44 years, died Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, at the residence, 12 Kennedy street. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Primitive Baptist church on Kennedy street, and the interment will be in Greenwood. She is survived by three daughters, one sister and two brothers.

Mrs. Sarah E. Jenkins.

Mrs. Sarah E. Jenkins, aged 62 years, died yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock in a private sanitarium. The body was removed to Poole's undertaking establishment, and at 2 o'clock this morning will be carried to Newnan, Ga., where the funeral and interment will take place. She is survived by her husband, T. J. Jenkins, two daughters and three sons.

Mrs. Fenton H. Brown.

Mrs. Fenton H. Brown, aged 60 years, died yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence, 663 S. Pryor street. The funeral arrangements will be announced later. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. F. H. Butler, and one son, Charles N. Head.

Lucile Wallace.

Lucile, the 7-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wallace, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at a private sanitarium. The funeral will be conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from Poole's chapel, and the interment will be in Casey's.

P. P. Wilson.

P. P. Wilson, who died Wednesday in Smithfield, Va., and whose body was scheduled to arrive here yesterday afternoon, will reach Atlanta this afternoon at 1:05 o'clock. Funeral arrangements will follow. Mr. Wilson is survived by five brothers and two sisters.

Cicero was the first to be named the "Father of His Country." When he overthrew the conspiracy of Cataline, the Roman senate conferred that title upon him.

DEATH OF GIRL LAID TO WOMAN

The Hawkins Murder Mystery Takes on New Phase--Woman Performed Operation.

Hendersonville, N. C., September 14. The Hawkins mystery took on a new phase today by the almost certain presence of a woman at the operation which cost Myrtle Hawkins her life. While the identity of the woman is withheld by the authorities, it is known that she will figure at the inquest tomorrow afternoon, and a sensation of a startling nature is looked for. It is definitely known tonight, however, that this woman attempted the operation and that she left the scene hurriedly after its fatal termination.

Detective Bradford, of Washington, is now in consultation with the coroner and other county officials, and important action is expected at its conclusion. It is stated on what is regarded as reliable authority that warrants for the arrest of persons suspected of having a guilty knowledge of the young woman's death have already been drawn up by Solicitor Johnson, of this judicial district, and will be served some time tomorrow.

Evidence of a damaging nature has been secured today and several new witnesses have been summoned to appear at the inquest which the coroner has reopened.

The officers in consultation debated on the advisability of serving the warrants tonight, but it was deemed advisable to defer action until after the rendition of jury's verdict tomorrow. It is announced that the public will be excluded from the inquest, but newspaper men will be admitted. The evidence presented tomorrow will disclose the fact that the fatal operation was performed at a house near Lake Oceola, and that after death the girl's body was hidden in the adjacent woods to be later thrown into the waters of the lake.

MAIL BY FAST FREIGHT SAVES $2,000,000 A YEAR

Postmaster General Hitchcock Says New Method Is a Success.

Washington, September 14.—A saving to the government of fully $2,000,000 on the transmission of periodical mail by fast freight was today estimated by Postmaster General Hitchcock after a two weeks' trial of this method of shipment. The plan was put in effect September 1, and during that time everything has gone satisfactorily. The postmaster general said today the system was proving highly successful and that the leading magazine publishers of the country were cooperating with his department in a most commendable way in making the new plan of shipment successful.

As the country is divided into four sections to determine by quadrennial weighings the amount of compensation to which railways are entitled for mail transportation, the plan of shipping by freight will not have its full effect for four years.

NEW RAILROAD ASSURED.

Will Run From Eufaula Northward to Pittsview, Ala.

Eufaula, Ala., September 14.—(Special.)—Eufaula's new railroad, the Eufaula and Chattahoochee Valley Railway Company, north from Eufaula to some point in Russell county, possibly Pittsview, to connect with the Seaboard, and in a southerly direction to points in Henry county to connect with the Atlantic Coast Line, is now a certainty.

The capital stock, authorized at $100,000, necessary to construct the road, has been subscribed by 115 citizens of Eufaula and the 20 per cent of the subscribed stock, $50,000, necessary to incorporate, is now being collected and the company will be incorporated Friday.

The stockholders held their first business meeting Tuesday evening.

The officers and directors unanimously elected are: J. P. Foy, president; A. H. Merrill, vice president; W. Lawrence Wild, secretary and treasurer.

In the hotel reading rooms in China may be found a German publication, printed in English, containing a splendid compilation of German export houses and what they have to offer.

CONVICTED MAN WON'T SQUEAL

Dayton, Ohio, September 14.—Rodney J. Diegle, the elusive convicted sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio state senate has not confessed. After much ado lest the man sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for complicity in bribery would make sensational revelations to save himself from prison, Diegle appeared here today and declared he had absolutely no knowledge of the guilt of anyone and steadfastly maintained innocence of the crime for which he was convicted.

Diegle, reported for several days to have been at French Lick Springs, Ind., and many other places preparing a bombshell for Ohio politicians in order to secure a further stay of sentence suspended until next Monday, came here this afternoon. He wrote a communication to the public. It contained no shrapnel and no information upon which the prosecution or attorney general of Ohio could base future prosecutions of alleged legislative corruption. In that sense the Diegle declaration is a disappointment to state officials and a source of elation to the vulnerable, who are alleged to be numerous.

"No man innocently convicted," Diegle wrote, concluding his letter to the public, "likes to face possible punishment and additional disgrace. Yet no man of honor and with the instincts of decency can purchase immunity or freedom by false or malicious statements of what he does not know. I have nothing further to say."

MAINE RESULT STILL IN DOUBT

Portland, Maine, September 14.—An apparent majority of 134 votes for repeal of the liquor prohobitory amendment of the Maine Constitution was announced in an official statement issued tonight by Secertary of State Cyrus W. Davis as the outcome of Monday's election. The secretary's report is based on signed returns from town clerks.

Certain discrepancies which indicate errors by town officials in returning the vote are not taken into account in the secretary's report as the law requires the secretary of state to tabulate the figures as received. These discrepancies are declared by leaders of the anti-repeal side to be sufficient to change the result to a "dry" majority.

Only the canvass of the vote by the governor and council later can adjust any discrepancies of this sort.

Press returns compiled in this city indicate tonight a "dry" majority of 356, taking into account the alleged discrepancies in town clerk's reports.

INDIANS ARE BARRED BY ORDER OF RED MEN

Cleveland, Ohio, September 14.—Before adjourning its national convention here today, the Improved Order of Red Men adopted a resolution prohibiting Indians from joining the organization. For a long time efforts have been made to have the Indian admitted to membership in the organization. The chief objection was centered against the half-breed, most of the delegates being favorable to the full-blooded Indian, upon whose traditions the order was founded.

DEATH OF TENANT CHARGED TO HILL

Dublin, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Jacob Y. Hill, a prominent Laurens county planter, was this afternoon committed to jail without bond on the charge of murder.

Recently he struck Thomas Whitehead, a tenant on his plantation, over the head with a hoe, from the effects of which blow Whitehead died a week later. Hill was immediately arrested and was under guard until this afternoon.

The difficulty occurred over the disposition of some cotton in which both were interested. Whitehead wanted to take the cotton to his home and Hill wanted it placed in a house in the field designated by him. Hill's plantation is in the lower part of the county.

NATCHEZ GIVES WELCOME TO BISHOP JOHN E. GUNN

Natchez, Miss., September 14.—(Special.)—Arriving in a special train furnished by the local lodge, Knights of Columbus, Rev. Father Gunn, newly appointed bishop of this diocese, reached here late this afternoon.

A crowd of two thousand people, including the men and women of St. Mary's congregation, and all the pupils of the four parochial schools, met him at the depot and formed a parade through the main streets of the city to the episcopal residence, with the bishop in a carriage drawn by four pure white horses bringing up the rear.

The route of the procession was thronged with people and time and again Bishop Gunn raised his hat in salute to the shouts of welcome that greeted him on every side. The procession halted at St. Mary's church, and special services were held in his honor. Rev. P. C. Hayden, rector of St. Mary's, made an address of welcome, to which the new bishop responded.

This evening a public reception was held in St. Mary's school, when he met practically all the leading citizens of the city. All the priests of this diocese, including Fathers Spengler and Hayden, of Natchez; Oliver, of Jackson; Dennis, of Woodville; Doyle, of Vicksburg; Gmelch, of Canton; Hussey, of Pass Christian; Keenan, of Clarksdale; Kernan, of Brookhaven; McGuire, of Laurel; J. J. Mullin, of Vicksburg; Oreilly, of Hattiesburg; Voyer, of Vicksburg; Kuhn, of Gulfport, and Dermody, of McComb City, were in attendance.

Rev. Father Edward Gunn, of Ireland, a brother of the new bishop, who came to this country to witness the consecration of his brother, was also present.

BITTEN BY CANINES TWO THOUSAND TIMES

"Dog Bites Ain't Nothin'," Says the Dog Catcher of Denver.

Denver, Col., September 14.—Herman Carn, official dog catcher of the city of Denver, yesterday received his two thousandth dog bite. Following his custom, he anointed the wound with carbolic acid and pursued his work.

"Dog bites ain't nothin'," he remarked cheerfully. "I'd a good deal rather have 'em than mosquito bites. There's nothin' to this hydrophobia business.

"I've been bitten by thoroughbred bulldogs, French poodles and yellow curs, and I'm still here."

Carn has kept a record of his bites. He picks up on the average of 10,000 dogs a year.

COAST LINE TRAIN DASHES INTO FREIGHT

Quitman, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—In a head-on collision between the westbound Coast Line passenger train and a freight here this morning two men were seriously injured. Lacey Yates, white, a contractor of Lakeland, Fla., was severely cut about the head and shoulders by broken glass. The negro fireman on the passenger had a shoulder dislocated.

The passengers escaped with nothing worse than a terrific shaking up. Both engines were wrecked, being completely telescoped. It is remarkable that not a car of either train left the track.

The passenger train was late and came into the yards here at high speed, it is said.

CAPT. WILSON ASKS RETIREMENT ON PENSION

Capt. W. T. B. Wilson, assistant in charge of sewers to Capt. R. M. Clayton, has made application for a pension under the provisions of the Candler pension ordinance, which provides for retirement on half pay of those who have been in the city's service for twenty continuous years, or have been disabled in the discharge of their duties.

Captain Wilson has served the city for over twenty years, and during that time has been regarded as one of the most efficient men in the department. He has been unable to work any this year on account of a stroke of paralysis, and it is feared that his strength may not be fully regained. He will retire from active service with the best wishes of many friends.

R. D. Waldron, of the sanitary department; Frank Christophine, of the police force, and Miss Rebe T. Vaughan, former principal of the Boys' Night school, have also filed applications for pensions.

BRITTON HURLS IN THE PINCHES

And Smears Lookouts With Coat of White 2-0.

Burch and Howard Starred in an All Around Capacity--Buemiller Stabbed a Peach—Lister Did Good Work for the Smithies.

By Dick Jemison.

The Crackers triumphed yesterday in the game again their deadly enemy, Chattanooga, and the victory was all the sweeter because it was against their former hoodoo, Harry Coveleskie, the pitching Pole.

Albert Arlington Britton, that sterling athlete of all work, did the twirling for the Crackers, and believe me, he did some twirling. His work in the pinches was immense and he received excellent support from his team mates. Artie applied the brush to a tune of 2-0.

Al Burch and Del Howard did the work offensively for the Crackers, each getting a single and a double. Burch's double was the result of a piece of heady base running. He dropped a Texas Leaguer back of third, rounding first at full speed. Moran held the ball momentarily. Burch took the chance and got away with it, reaching second ahead of the throw.

Burch's Great Catch.

In the second inning Burch made one of the most sensational catches ever seen on a local field. Nill hit a vicious one to left field. Burch went back for it on the run, stabbed it with one hand, juggled it, bounced it again and finally speared it before it fell to the ground. He was given an ovation by the small but enthusiastic crowd.

Otto Jordan returned to the game after an absence of over a week and the team looked better.

Buemiller's running one-handed stop and throw of a lively grounder from the bat of Gandolfi in the second sparkled with brilliancy, as did a running catch of Zimmerman in the last inning.

Pete Lister's work at first base was the feature of the Lookouts' play. But for his pretty scoops the game would have been lopsided. He saved Murch and Gandolfi three bad throws apiece by pretty pick-ups.

The Lookouts threatened in both the fourth and fifth innings when they had three men on bases, but Britton fanned a man on each occasion and the next one popped up an easy fly.

It was the sixth inning before the Crackers were able to tally, and the Pole alone is to be blamed for that tally. He issued a free ticket to Wells and uncorked a wild heave on which Phil traveled to second, an infield out sending him to third and Buemiller's sacrifice fly-out scoring him.

In the eighth Howard led off with a double back of first and went on to third when Nill made a bad return to second. While Britton was being thrown out at first he made a wild dash for the plate and by a pretty fallaway slide arrived safely home.

The two teams will try conclusions again this afternoon. Johns will do the twirling for the Crackers, with Kuepper on the mound for the Lookouts.

Incidentally, mention should be made of the fact that this is the third straight win for the Crackers, the first time since the first month of the season that they have been able to bring home three victories in a row.

Pels Win Two.

New Orleans, September 14.—New Orleans won two games from the Mobile club this afternoon by the scores of 7 to 0 and 4 to 1. Otto Hess pitched both games and was never in the least danger. The local team hit the ball timely and played splendid fielding games. Burleson opposed Hess in the first and pitched fair ball until the eighth inning, when four hits, a base on balls and some good base running gave the home team five runs.

Demaree pitched the second game for Mobile and let the New Orleans club down with five hits, but his support was inferior, errors occurring at critical moments.

The locals need only one more game to insure them the Southern League championship. They will play two more with Mobile tomorrow.

Nashville, Tenn., September 14.—Nashville took the first game of the last series of the season here this afternoon, 3 to 0. Fleharty pitched splendid ball with men on the bags, so that the visitors had little chance to score, although there were men on third base on occasions with only one out. An infield [illegible] Nashville's first run, while the last [illegible] the sixth, when Perry and Welchonce sco[illegible] latter's home run over the right field fence. Altman's fielding was the feature. The score:

COLUMBIA COPS THIRD OF SERIES

Wagner Holds Columbus Safe While Radabaugh Is Hit Hard.

Final Score 7 to 1—Columbus Team Blows Up in the Eighth Inning--The Two Teams Open Up a Series in Columbia Today.

Columbus, Ga., September 14.—Inability on the part of Columbus to hit Wagner, and ability on the part of Columbia to hit Radabaugh when hits meant runs, explains the score of 7 to 1 in favor of the Carolina team in the third of the championship series between the two teams here this afternoon. The game was quite interesting throughout and at times exciting on account of the intense interest as to the result.

Radabaugh, while yielding more hits than usual, was not in bad form, and if he had had the usual support given him the score would have been different.

Wagner was there with the goods at all times. He was a puzzle the locals were unable to solve. He had their "goat," and they could do nothing with him. In the first inning it was three up and three down for both teams. In the second inning each team scored one. With Duncan out, Krug singled by third, and was forced out at second when Delehanty grounded to short. Delehanty going to second on a wild throw to first; Coveney's single to left scored Delehanty, and he went to second. Clark fouled out to catcher.

Gaston grounded to first and went to second on bad throw to first sack, got third on an error and scored when Breyette lifted one over center for three bags. The next three men went out.

It was three up and three down, except in the sixth, when Duncan singled, until the eighth, when the balloon went up. Beck singled to left, Harbison bunted to pitcher, and was safe, Beck going to second. Duncan grounded to short, filling the bases. Krug sent one to short and Beck was out at the plate, the others advancing. Sisson dropped Delehanty's fly to center, and Harbison scored. Coveney rolled one down to third and Duncan scored. Clark grounded to center and Delehanty, Krug and Coveney scored, Clark going to third in the mixup. Wagner flew out to left. Krebs batted in Reynolds' place, and fanned. Radabaugh singled to left and Becker and Lewis fanned. The game was called at this juncture on account of darkness.

The result of today's game gives Columbus two and Columbia one of the three games here. The teams go to Columbia tomorrow for three games, if that may be necessary to decide the championship. Should neither team win a majority of the six games, then the seventh will be played at a point to be selected.

MOBILE RESERVES SEVENTEEN MEN

Mobile, Ala., September 14.—The Mobile Baseball Association has reserved the following players for next season: Campbell, Ryan, Demaree, pitchers; Dunn, Mitchell, Cadman, catchers; Swacina, Seitz, Walsh, Rohe, infielders; Bayless, Miller, outfielders; by purchase: Vernuille, Burmeister, Basley, pitchers. Burleson, pitcher, (optionally sold to Brooklyn). Newton, infielder, by recall from Yazoo City.

BILLIKENS LOSE DOC JOHNSTON

When waivers were asked for Doc Johnson last week, a claim for the player was filed by President Jones, of the Montgomery club. Upon receipt of the Billiken claim President Kavanaugh notified Jones that Montgomery had first claim to Johnston, but upon further investigation it developed that Jones' message was several hours late, as the three-day limit for the claiming of the player had expired.

Jones cannot understand why his claim failed to reach President Kavanaugh in time and will probably file a protest with the league directors for the player, for whose contract he must pay $400.

Harris to Coach.

Anniston, Ala., September 14.—(Special.)—Ben E. Harris, better known as "Rabbit" Harris, for two or three seasons a star under Mike Donahue at the Alabama Polytechnic institute at Auburn, has been appointed coach at the Alabama Normal college at Jacksonville, and he promises to put a formidable squad in the limelight this season.

BY WAY OF AS YOU LIKE IT

OF COURSE ATLANTA WON, BUT THAT WAS YEARS AGO

I HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO PICK A WINNER

BY SMITH CLAYTON.

It is with dire misgivings that I avail myself of the kind offer of the city editor to shine for a few brief moments in the nonpareil sporting column which daily corrals the coruscations of Mr. Fuzzy Woodruff, who as easily lassoes the labyrinthine pearls which lie in the hitherto unfathomed fastnesses of the great ocean of sport or the kaleidoscopic bubbles which float upon the surface buoyantly as a rainbow-tinted nautilus shoots the dancing rapids.

That sentence alone convicts me of inability to become a sport writer. But divers other reasons might be mentioned why I can never hope to attain to the proud distinction of treading those sun-swept heights where the Ty Cobbs trip it as they go to the light fantastic toe, and the Sullivans and Jeffrieses come like spirits, so depart like the witches which circled the cauldron in the tragedy of "Macbeth."

One reason why I am hopelessly out of it when it comes to pushing a sport goose quill is that at intervals, very long ones, it is true, I have been known to name the winner. How well I remember when the White Sox met the Cubs in deadly array for the world's championship—how well I remember that from Maine to California the great army of sport writers of this republic with one voice proclaimed the Cubs easy victors. Sewed up the sequence, and threw it in the sack, as if there could not possibly be any other wise to that redoubtable battle.

The actual result was White Sox 4 games, Cubs 2 games! I remember, too, how I raked in $165 by deliberately running directly counter to the laws and carefully digested opinion of the combined sport writers of America and listened to the wisdom of Uncle Robert Sharp, of Atlanta, who simply said: "Let them name the winner. We'll take what's left—the White Sox."

Noticing that Chattanooga will wind up the season in Atlanta, reminds me of the first real, big game of baseball I ever saw. I went without my dinner, too, to see it.

It was played between the Chattanoogas and the Gate Citys in Atlanta on a natural ball field just this side of Oakland cemetery. They were the first strong local clubs organized in the cities named, after the war. The field was surrounded by a beautiful grove—all built over long ago. There were no seats except for the umpire and the players.

The town went out afoot and in all manner of vehicles and watched the game from the grove!

By the way, the umpire on that occasion was Mr. Lemuel Downs, an Atlanta pioneer—one of the best citizens the town ever had. He grew up with Atlanta, but for years has lived in Savannah. However, he still spends his summers in the Gate City, and is here now looking as natural as he did nearly 45 years ago when from a comfortable chair he passed judgment on the first Chattanooga-Atlanta game ever played here.

They played pretty much all day, and of course, Atlanta won.

Those were the days in which Atlanta beat them all and kept them beaten—the days of fouls out on the bound; of four strikes and out; of seven balls, take your base, and of pitching the ball, not throwing it, as now.

Incidentally, the score was Gate City 86, Chattanooga 27.

There were no pads or breastplates, mitts or the like—but the catcher, George Cassin, took them barehanded right under the bat, and the pitcher, "Little Jimmy Gregg" could curve 'em, swift, too, well rather; he would make some of the present-day "throwers" look sick! The ball used was called the "Bounding Rock," and was about as lively as a section camp on Saturday night!

The Gate City club was a wonder. During their career of a few years they won 36 balls and several trophy bats of exquisite workmanship. The balls were won from the clubs of various southern cities, Chattanooga, Augusta, Macon, Savannah, Columbus, Montgomery and so on. They were glazed with gold and bore the date of the match game in which captured, and where played.

There was the local fire, the corps d'esprit, in those days, real town against town, and maybe the fans were not something fierce.

Our fellow townsman, Captain Billy Sparks; the well-known Atlantan, is the sole survivor of the original Gate City nine.

Sparks played first base and used to scoop 'em up bare-handed better then than some of the mitt dubs get 'em now.

My recollection is that the other members of the original Gate City were Willis Biggers, second base; Tom Johnson, third base; Dick Williford, left field; John Collier, center field; Bill Judson, right field; Bob Dohme, short stop; Jim Gregg, pitcher, all Atlanta men—all passed to that great field of the shadows, where no foul balls are ever hit and the Great Umpire of the dead never makes an unjust decision!

HUB NORTHERN PRESENTED CHECK FOR HITTING "BULL"

On his first trip to the plate in the game yesterday afternoon, Outfielder E. L. "Hub" Northern, of the Chattanooga team, was presented with a check for $50, which was awarded him for hitting the bull sign at Memphis on September 3.

Umpire Rudderham made the presentation with the players of both teams surrounding the plate for the presentation. He said: "It gives me great pleasure to present to you on behalf of a generous firm this little token of their esteem for your prowess as a swatter on the Memphis ball park on September 3. May you continue to prove such a swatter in the future."

"Hub" responded with a meek "thank you,' took his place at the plate and worked Britton for a free ticket.

A tag for a home run in the second game of the double-header with Nashville on Wednesday was also presented to First Baseman Sykes of the Crackers.

MACON RELEASES FRANCHISE; LEAGUE PAYS THE SALARIES

Macon, Ga., September 14.—In order to effect the payment of salaries due thirteen players who were stranded and without funds to go to their respective homes, the Macon Baseball Association today surendered its franchise to the South Atlantic League.

President Joyner then paid each of the players in full.

Losing over $7,000 this year, the club was unable to pay the players at the close of the season. It is hoped that before another season begins the club will be able to redeem the franchise.

Cincinnati, September 14.—The Cincinnati baseball club today disposed of five of the recruits recently gathered in through draft and purchase. All go to Columbus, Ohio. Among them is Pitcher Brausewein, formerly of Charlotte, N. C. The Cincinnati club reserves the right to recall any of the players.

FINALS REACHED IN TENNIS MEET

The right to challenge Carleton Smith, the present tennis champion of the Atlanta Athletic club, goes to either B. M. Grant or E. V. Carter, Jr.

Mr. Grant was, a few years ago, when paired with Dr. Nat Thornton, the southern doubles champion. Mr. Carter is at present the southern intercollegiate tennis champion.

Grant and Carter have gone through the singles and play one another in the finals on Saturday. Mr. Smith will defend his title against the winner.

Play in the doubles has not been started as yet, nor has the play in the consolation singles.

NO RACING NEWS COMING FROM LEXINGTON TRACK

Lexington, Ky., September 14.—At a meeting of the state racing commission today it was decided not to permit any racing news to be sent from the Lexington track. All telegraph and telephone wires were ordered removed and the messenger service stopped. The commission claimed that the action taken was to prevent pool rooms from obtaining information. The offer of a telegraph company to allow the commission to appoint a censor and station him in the telegraph office and to delay all dispatches twenty minutes was turned down.

This is the first time in the history of racing in Kentucky that newspapers and news associations have been prevented from sending news from the Kentucky Association track here.

Another important action taken by the commission was the formal adoption of a rule stopping the selling of auction pools on tracks in Kentucky.

The commission approved the selection of a $1,000 gold cup for the winner of the Kentucky endurance stake at 4 miles to be run at Louisville on October 7.

Nat Thornton Plays Today.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 14.—At the Ohio state open tennis tournament tomorrow Dr. Nat Thornton, of Atlanta, Ga., and Fred Harris, of Brattleboro, Vt., will meet and the victor of the match will play F. C. Marty, of Fort Thomas, Ky., the present champion.

The Sutton sisters, May and Florence, won all of their matches in the women's events today.

HILTON DEFEATS "JERRY" TRAVERS

Great Golf Is Played by the Briton and American.

Odds of 3 to 1 Now Offered That the Briton Wins Title. Hilton Meets Inslee Today. Record-Breaking Card Turned In by "Chick" Evans.

Rye, N. Y., September 14.—At the close of the fourth day of play in the amateur national golf championship, the American defense against British golfing supremacy as represented by Harold H. Hilton, of the Royal Liverpool Club, rests on Charles W. Inslee, of the Wykagil Club, of New Rochelle, N. Y., and the winner of tomorrow's contest between Frederick Herreshoff, playing from the Ekwanok Club, of Manchester, Vt., and Charles Evans, Jr., of the Edgewater Club, Chicago. Hilton will play Inslee tomorrow.

Travers' Gallant but Vain Effort.

Jerome D. Travers, twice American champion, made a gallant effort in the third round today to stop the British champion, but went down on the thirty-fourth green by a score of 3 up and 2 to play. More than 3,000 golf enthusiasts tramped the 6,200 yards of the Apawamis course twice to see what was probably the greatest golfing struggle ever waged in this country.

The three other matches in the third round were absolutely neglected, yet Inslee had to play 36 holes to defeat P. W. Whittemore, of the Country Club of Brookline, Mass., 1 up, while Herreshoff was carried to the 32d green by Oswald Kirkby, of Englewood.

"Chick" Evans, after being three down at the end of the morning round, played record-breaking golf in the afternoon and disposed of Albert Eeckel of Riverside, Chicago, by 2 up and 1 to play. Evans subsequently kept on to the 18th hole in his afternoon match, whereby he established a new record for the course of an even 70. The former record of 71 was held by Herreshoff. Because of this fast golf Evans is picked to defeat Herreshoff tomorrow, and to many the smiling young Chicagoan is regarded as the American hope against Hilton.

Hilton Always Master.

It took the entire executive board of the United States Golf Association, assisted by the local committee and fifty fathoms of one-inch rope, to keep the gallery within reasonable bounds behind the Hilton-Travers match today, but all hands saw a battle of giants.

Except for the first hole in the morning and a slight slump during the first three holes in the afternoon, Hilton was always master of the situation, and it was only by the most brilliant golf that Travers held him as well as he did. When they ended their morning play Travers walked off the 18th green with the remark: "He's much too fast for me." Yet the New Jersey player went out in the afternoon and won three holes in succession and pulled Hilton's lead down from four to one. Then the American player topped his drive for the fourth hole and Hilton held him firmly to the end.

The crowd that marched behind and hung breathless on every stroke was intensely patriotic, but hardly generous in its applause. When Travers reached the short fifth green with his iron and the ball began to trickle away from the hole, a thousand throats shouted "Whoa" Groans followed every put that Travers missed, and a few were heard when Hilton ran down some long ones, while the applause for any fine display of sterling British golf was noticeably weak.

Three to One Quoted on Hilton.

Hilton's going machine needed no American encouragement, for it worked with such smoothness that his chances of carrying it through to the final green on Saturday afternoon were quoted tonight at 3 to 1 against the field.

The best of feeling prevailed between the internationalists, even when Hilton, who has been "down" but once in some fifty holes, took the "honor" at the tenth tee today, which rightfully belonged to Travers. Some said it was force of habit, while others claimed Travers relinquished it to get a drink of water.

The cards of Hilton and Travers were:

WINSTON TROPHY PLAY SATURDAY

The qualifying round in the golf tournament for the trophy given by Captain E. T. Winston will be played tomorrow afternoon, with a large entry list promised.

In this tournament the club handicaps will apply in the qualifying round, the sixteen low net scores qualifying for play in the first flight for the Winston cup. As many other flights as fill will also be played.

There will also be prizes for the runner-up in the first flight, and to the winners in the other flights. The entrance fee is $1. The second round of match play must be played by the following Thursday, with the semi-finals by Saturday.

MAXWELL RAISES $1,231 FOR SCOTTY

Bert Maxwell, the star twirler of the Southern League and the man who hit Scotty Walker with a pitched ball in the early part of the season and disabled that sterling little player for life, has shown his deep regret of the incident by the way he has worked to make the proposed benefit games a success.

These games will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week between two all-star teams, the team winning two out of three of the games getting 25 per cent of the gate receipts for the three days.

Maxwell went to work to raise $1,000 for Scotty, canvassing the grand stands in the cities that he visited. Thursday morning Manager Otto Jordan received a check from Bert for $1,231.29.

This is a remarkable showing for the big nurler and probably far surpasses anything in the history of baseball. Bert's work is a striking example of the deep fellowship existing between the ball players, and strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of all the fans of this and other cities.

Maxwell deserves unstinted praise for the work he has done to make the benefit a success. It is up to the fans of Atlanta now to jump in behind Maxwell and make the thing a huge success. Twent-five hundred dollars clear ought to be sent to the little shortstop.

Manager Jordan has sold in the neighborhood of $300 worth of tickets. About a like amount has been received from out of town from various sources. The Atlanta players are still selling tickets and have not checked in their amounts as yet.

Outside contributions were received from the following teams: Albany, Anniston, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis, Montgomery, Mobile, Birmingham, New Orleans, Cleveland, Washington, Brooklyn and Cincinnati.

Other out-of-town amounts were sent by the following: Connie Mack, manager of the world's champions, $5; Charley Frank, manager of the Southern League pennant-winners, $10; President Heinnemann, of the New Orleans team, $10; three Gainesville fans, $3.

The local baseball association has not contributed its pro rata share to the benefit, nor will it until the day of the first game, but on that date they will probably come across with the biggest single contribution of the lot and swell the total considerably.

Indications are that from the various sources outside of the city and from the receipts of the three games that the total amount to be turned over to Scotty will exceed $2,500.

Let's all pull together to surpass that figure. Scotty deserves every penny of it, for he was the most brilliant ball player who ever stepped on a local infield, and it is up to the fans to show their appreciation of this and their regret over the fact that he will never step on it again.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Syracuse, N. Y., September 14.—Soprano, 2:03¾, won the Madden sweepstakes, the feature event of today's Grand Circuit meeting, defeating Hallworthy, 2:05¼. It took five heats to decide which trotter would get the greater share of the $4,200 stake.

Soprano, driven by Billy Andrews, was an easy winner of the first heat, but a hair-raising drive by Geers in the stretch, the last quarter being trotted in 29¾ seconds, won the second heat for Hallworthy. In the third the Geers bay gelding was never headed.

Geers was unable to keep his entry steady in the next two heats, and soprano raced to the wire first each time.

Exciting finishes marked the 2:05 pace, which was won by Major Brino, while the 2:08 pace developed a stirring contest with My Shady Belle, the winner.

2:05 pace, 2 in 3, purse $1,000—Major Brino, b. g., by Wild Brino, first; Ella Ambulator, b. m., second; Star Patch, b. g., third. Best time 2:05¼.

The Madden Sweepstakes, 3 in 5, purse $4,200 (second money $800)—Soprano, ch. m., by Bellini, first; Hallworthy b. g., second. Best time, 2:06.

2:08 pace, 2 in 3, purse $1,000—My Shady Belle, b. m., by Shadeon, first; Twinkling Dan, blk. h., second; Directum Regent, blk. s., third. Best time, 2:06¼.

TECH FOOTBALL GOSSIP.

By R. L. Hughes.

While Tech's football prospects are in doubt, Coach Heisman seems to be working harder than ever trying to make the best of what he has. He spent a good part of Thursday morning lecturing the men on the new rules and going over the signals to be used this year. Coach Heisman seems to be laying special stress on discipline and conditioning the men this year. However, with the able assistance of Coach Houser, he can be counted on to put a winning eleven on the field.

Two elevens were on the field running signals and between the two, Coach Heisman was kept pretty busy looking after both squads. He has a great many new plays and formations this year, but will depend mostly on straight football for the first part of the season.

Roy Goree, who played a star end for Tech last year, was out on the field in citizen's clothes, and will report for practice tomorrow. Goree has a brother at Tech this year, who is out for the team, and is showing up well in the practices. Lenau, who hails from Virginia, and MacDonald are also new recruits who look good.

M'CAY A FATHER

The Albany baseball team now has a mascot, for Bernie McCay, the popular left fielder, is the proud father of a handsome baby girl. The stork visited Bernie's home on State street last night and left a little girl that Bernie says looks exactly like him.

This is the first player to be drafted by the Albany club, and they have already elected little Miss McCay sponsor for next season.

Timmons is a new Canadian town being established at a point which will be the terminal of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway branch, which will be completed this autumn. Banks and business houses are already preparing to build in the new town.

MORRIS AND FLYNN TO FIGHT TONIGHT

The Heavyweights Will Meet in Madison Square Garden.

The Contest Will Decide Which Is Worthy to Meet Jack Johnson—Morris Has Advantage in Youth, Weight and Reach.

New York, September 1.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, will meet tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden for their long-postponed fight. The bout will be ten rounds with five-ounce gloves. Charley White will referee, but no decision will be rendered. Morris will weigh about 230 pounds and Flynn about 180.

The prospects of a good battle, with one of the contestants a man who, by some, is considered suitable timber from which to work an antagonist worthy to meet Jack Johnson, has created great interest in the bout and a bumper crowd of fight lovers from all over the country, especially from Oklahoma, is expected.

Morris has come east with a record far above the ordinary fighter—seven fights and seven knockouts—and all inside of six rounds. In Flynn, he will meet no unworthy foeman, for the fireman has knocked into unconsciousness several good men, notably Al Kaufman. He is a rushing, punishing fighter, of the Tom Sharkey type.

Morris, with his six feet four inches, will tower over Flynn, and he also will have the advantage of youth, reach and weight. The handlers of both men say they are in fine fettle and prepared to go the ten rounds at a fast pace.

Measurements.

Morris.		Flynn.
24 years	Age	29 years

Excursion to Birmingham Via Seaboard

$2.50 round trip, Tuesday, September 19. Special train leaves old depot 8 a. m., arriving Birmingham 12:30. No stops.

AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., September 14.—A heavy track which caused numerous scratches, practically ruined an excellent card billed for the opening of the fall racing season in Kentucky here today.

In the feature event, the Autumn cup, only two starters faced the barrier. Startler won rather easily from Fireman.

The prettiest race of the day was furnished in the inaugural dash of six furlongs, when Quartermaster won in a drive from Cherryola and Hanbridge.

The Hague had an easy time winning the third race.

FIRST RACE—Six furlongs, the Inaugural dash: Quartermaster, 112 (Higgins,) won; Cherryola, 103 (Moore, second; Hanbridge, 106 (Mountain), third. Time, 1:55 3-5. Raleigh P. D., Bobby Boyer, Old Honesty, Lemberg and Helene ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Quartermaster, $15, won; place, $7.50; show, $3.00. Cherryola, place, $4.90; show, $2.30. Hanbridge, show, $3.20.

SECOND RACE—Selling, five furlongs: Irishtown, 104 (Goose), won; Goldmine, 103 (Turner), second; Merode, 102 (Steele), third. Time, 1:05. Sauce, Sarah Chenault, Booby, Mexico and Star Rose ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Irishtown, won, $6.90; place, $4.00; show, $3.30. Goldmine, place, $3.70; show, $8.30. Merode, show, $4.00.

THIRD RACE—Selling, one mile and twenty yards: The Hague, 109 (Higgins), won; Stare, 99 (Diggins), second; Robert Bruce, 104 (Koerner), third. Time, 1:46 3-5. Supple, Spaluing and Discontent ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: The Hague, won, $4.10; place, $3.00; show, $2.80. Stare, place, $7.40; show, $4.00; Robert, Bruce, show, $3.40.

FOURTH RACE—Two miles and a quarter, the Autumn Cup: Startler, 93 (Steele), won; Fireman, 107 (J. Loftus), second. Time, 2:04. Only three starters.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Startler, won, $5.30.

FIFTH RACE—Purse, two year-olds, five furlongs, selling: Rose of Jeddah, 102 (Loftus), won; Kaiser, 111 (Mountain), second; Viley, 105 (Ganz), third. Time, 2:03. Marzo, Tourist, Tilley's Nightmare, Lure and Yankee ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Rose of Jeddah, straight, $11.80; place, $5.50; show, $3.60. Kaiser, place, $4.90; show, $3.60. Viley, show, $7.40.

SIXTH RACE—Three-year-olds and up, $600, mile and a 16th, selling: Bouncer, 99 (Skirvin), won; Otilo, 108 (Walcott), second; Tom Bigbee, 111 (Sutin), third. Time, 1:53 2-5. Silver Knight and Wing Ting also ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Bouncer, straight, $9.10; place, $4.70; show, $3.10. Otilo, place, $12.40; show, $3.90. Tom Bigbee, show, $2.80.

Wolgast Breaks Training.

Milwaukee, Wis., September 14.—Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast broke training camp today and left for his home at Cadillac, Mich. Tom Jones, manager for Wolgast, left for Chicago tonight, accompanied by Danny Morgan, who looks after "Knockout" Brown's interests. It is reported Jones and Morgan are negotiating to match the boys before a New York club.

Tom O'Rouke, of New York, tonight wired The Milwaukee Sentinel, offering a $20,000 purse for a contest between Wolgast and McFarland.

Double Tragedy Revealed.

Minneapolis, Minn., September 14.—A double tragedy was revealed near here this evening, when, in the cellar of a farm house in Anoka county, was found the battered body of Mrs. Walter Bolton, and buried in the garden the body of an unidentified man. Frank Rhoades, employed on the farm, has not been seen for two or three days.

BIRDMAN RESUMES LONG AIR VOYAGE

Aviator Ward Trying to Fly From Ocean to Ocean.

He Ascends at Paterson, N. J., on Second Day and Flies to Susquehanna, Pa., by Nightfall—Airship Worked Badly at Times.

Susquehanna, Pa., September 14.—James J. Ward, the cross-continent flyer, who left New York for San Francisco Wednesday, reached Calicoon, N. Y., a few miles from here, at 4:35 o'clock this afternoon. On his final fly today he covered 59 1-10 miles in 57 minutes, having left Middletown, N. Y., at 3:38. His total distance covered so far is 138 miles.

Ward will start again on his long journey early tomorrow morning. His first stopping place tomorrow, he said, would be Owego, N. Y., which is about 90 miles as the aviator flies.

As soon as Ward got his machine tied up for the night he hurried to a telegraph wire to inquire about Fowler. He seemed surprised when told that the latter had not left Colfax.

Ward started from Paterson, N. J., this morning, and was in the air only a minute when he had to come down on account of engine trouble. At 9:20 he took to the air again, and flew 20 miles to Sloatsburg, N. Y., coming down at 9:46 to get his bearings. He went up again, but, after a few miles, had to come to earth to fix his engine near Middletown, N. Y. After lunching he went on to Colicoon.

Ward said that, aside from engine trouble, his machine is working all right.

Fowler Repairing Machine.

Colfax, Cal., September 14.—Several castings, some woodwork and a number of clips necessary for the rebuilding of the airship in which "Bob" Fowler hopes to make a flight across the continent, were rushed to completion today. With these castings in place the air craft is gradually assuming definite shape, and it is expected a trial flight will be possible late tomorrow.

KENNEDY LODGED IN LEESBURG JAIL

Youth Charged With Murder of Mrs. Childers Warmly Greeted by Friends.

Americus, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—When Sheriff Smith, of Lee county, brought Robert Kennedy, the young man arrested upon the charge of administering poison to Mrs. Maud Childers, of Smithville, to that town this morning en route to Leesburg jail with his prisoner, the train was quickly surrounded by Kennedy's friends, many of whom shook hands with him and gave him expression of kindly wishes in his unexpected predicament.

Sheriff Smith brought young Kennedy back to the scene of recent crime from Carrollton, near Atlanta, where he was arrested recently at the instance of detectives. He is safely confined tonight in the Leesburg jail, and will be accorded preliminary trial next Monday, September 18, before Henry Long, of the city court of Leesburg.

Kennedy's friends have already employed able counsel and a battle royal will be fought in the now celebrated case.

Feeling still runs high in Lee county, both at Smithville, the home of Mrs. Childers, and at Leesburg, the county seat.

The alleged statements accredited today to Kennedy to the effect that while he did not administer the strichnine to Mrs. Childers, that he knew who did, and the further statement, that he could not bear to the woman he formerly loved the wife of another, created a profound sensation here. Hundreds of his friends profess belief in his entire innocence and will stick to him throughout the trial.

The reports that Mort Childers had considerable life insurance upon his wife, the deceased, this pointing a possible motive for the crime, are emphatically denied by close and intimate friends of Childers, who declare the life insurance stories wholly untrue.

In view of the very intense feeling in the community interest in the case will continue at fever heat until the preliminary trial next Monday at Leesburg.

Sheriff Smith says Kennedy professes his innocence, and that the youth has made no incriminating statements to him at any time.

STATE TO MANUFACTURE HOG CHOLERA SERUM

Serum Will Be Sold to Farmers at Actual Cost of Making.

Athens, Ga., September 14.—(Special.) Georgia will be the first southern state to begin the manufacture of serum for hog cholera. Dr. A. M. Soule has just received notification that the initial amount of appropriation, $3,000, will be available for the beginning of the work at the state college. He is now hunting for an additional man for the veterinary department to have nothing to do but make hog cholera serum for the farmers of Georgia whose droves are affected.

The distribution of the serum to be made here, will be in the hands of the state veterinarian, Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen. The work will probably be under way by the first of November and after the serum is manufactured it will be sold to the farmers applying for it through the state veterinarian at actual cost.

Deadly Work by Carboy.

Philadelphia, September 14.—Nine persons were injured, two probably fatally, in the fire which followed an explosion of a carboy of ether today in the storage house of the chemical works of Powers, Weightman & Rosengarten, at Ninth and Parris streets. The damage to the building and contents is estimated at $50,000.

DARING RIDING BY ATLANTA GIRLS AT THE KNOXVILLE HORSE SHOW

Knoxville, Tenn., September 14.—The Appalachian exposition horse show closed tonight, having scored what is claimed to be the greatest success in this line in the south. Danville and Shelbyville, Ky., horses figured prominently among the winners, but Atlanta, Ga., and Knoxville came in for a share of the blue ribbons. Kentucky's Choice, owned by Mrs. Richard T. Lowndes, of Danville, Ky., won his thirty-seventh blue ribbon, taking his last one in the model horse class, in which there were fourteen entries. White Harp, also owned by Mrs. Lowndes, won two red ribbons.

Tonight's program consisted of ten classes, all of which were well filled. The most sensational events were the jumping races, and the large audience was treated to thrills which were not on the program when Miss Charles Owens, of Atlanta, riding Kathleen Sheridan fell, when her saddle girth broke, but, luckily escaped unhurt. Miss Mary Algood Jones, of Atlanta, was thrown when her horse was trying one of the jumps and she likewise escaped without serious harm.

"My Butterfly," owned by J. C. Cook, of Shelbyville, Ky., won the blue ribbon in the five-gaited saddlehorse class and the combination class. The trophy for single roadsters, lady drivers, went to "Annie Russell," owned by J. K. Ottley, of Atlanta, and ridden by Miss Passie Mae Ottley. "Roddy" owned and ridden by Miss Josephine Windle, of Atlanta, won the blue ribbon in the jumping event. "Alexander," owned by W. P. Hood, of Knoxville, won the light roadster class.

The most exciting event of the show Wednesday night was the riding of young women in the jumper class. The Atlanta riders were Miss Mary Algood Jones, Misses Louise and Josephine Windle.

Miss Mary Algood Jones won the blue in the open jumping class, Miss Louise Windle won second, Miss Josephine Windle third.

Miss Charles Owens won first, riding King Bolt in five-gaited saddle class; also first in cadet's class, five-gaited.

Miss Louise Windle won second in this same class.

John K. Ottley won three blues, one on Annie Russell in heavy harness, two blues on Annie and Lillian Russell, pair heavy harness. On Macaltara he won red in heavy harness; on Bonnie Lee, third prize on five-gaited saddle class.

Frank Inman, Atlanta, and Mr. Hunt, of Virginia, won first in pair roadsters, Inman and Oglesby, Atlanta, second on heavy harness pair. Frank Inman won second in five-gaited class, on Chester Bond; second in ladies' class, five-gaited.

No feature of the ladies' part of the Knoxville horse show was more creditable than the riding of Miss Charles Owens, of Atlanta. Miss Owens had been scheduled to ride Kathleen Sheridan, the three-gaited saddle class in Mrs. Richard Tasker Lowndes' string. At the last minute Kathleen Sheridan was lame and in her place White Heart was entered. This horse had never been ridden by a woman. Miss Owens, despite the horse's high spirit, fearlessly mounted, made a splendid performance, and won the second ribbon.

BULLET ARRESTS NEGRO BURGLAR

Queer Chase Ends When Hugh Harralson Shoots Negro Intruder.

Mrs. Hugh Harralson, of 89 West Harris street, and Miss Lowndes, who lives with her, discovered a burglar from their upstairs windows yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock as he was effecting an entrance into the home of Dr. E. L. Hawley, 41 Orme street. The back yards of the two houses run together.

Mr. Harralson, who is a railway mail clerk, was downstairs at the time and ran to the telephone when his wife told him what was happening. The negro evidently heard her call, and, although he had gotten safely into the house, he hurriedly left without securing any loot.

"Watch out, he'll get away," again called Mrs. Harralson. She and Miss Lowndes were maintaining a lookout upstairs.

Mr. Harralson at once seized his pistol and started for the burglar, who was leisurely walking away. The negro was armed with a long knife.

"Hands up!" Harralson called, and the negro obeyed, but continued his way, rightly thinking that the white man would hesitate about shooting. Harralson walked in front of him. The negro circled around and got in front again. Once more Harralson circled, and this continued until the street was reached.

"Mister, if you comes close enough I'm gwine ter kill you," said the negro, who still held his knife ready for business.

The strange and deliberate chase continued, their progress being marked by the telephone calls which reached the police station from excited women along the way. A crowd gradually gathered, but it was discreet and made no attempt to aid Mr. Harralson. The "circling" continued, but the negro invariably kept on. They had gone about fifteen blocks, to the corner of Orme and Hunnicutt streets, when Mr. Harralson concluded to end the "chase."

"If you don't stop I'm going to shoot you," he told the burglar. The negro made a dive at him with his knife, but was stopped by two bullets from an automatic pistol. He fell with a broken leg and one ball in his thigh, and was carred into a negro house, later to be taken to the Grady hospital. He said he is Leonard Lewis.

A few moments after he was shot Captain Mayo arrived on the scene, with Call Officers Bailey, Folds, Brannen and West. Harralson surrendered himself. He was allowed to go by himself to the police station, where it was decided that no case would be entered against him.

Tired of Woman Mayor Row.

Topeka, Kansas, September 14.—Tiring of the controversy between Mrs. Ella Willson, the mayor of Hunnewell, Kansas, and the councilmen there, the commercial club of that town today appealed to Governor Stubbs to stop the row because of the alleged unsavory advertising Hunnewell is receiving. There is much agitation of a plan to start general ouster proceedings against the mayor and the members of the council.

MEETING HELD IN SIXTH WARD

Charter Is Denounced By a Number of Speakers.

At an anti-charter meeting held last night in the Sixth ward at Puckett's courtroom, a number of speakers denounced the new charter.

About 100 voters were present. J. M. Wood presided over the meeting, and the speakers were Aldine Chambers, A. L. Richards, John E. McClelland, Judge E. C. Kontz, Claude Ashley, W. M. Smith, George Brown and J. L. Key.

In talking of the new charter, J. L. Key said that it was not a plan for the people as a mass. He bitterly denounced the newspapers in supporting the charter.

Attorney John E. McClelland, Dr. George Brown, William M. Smith and many others spoke along the same lines, praising those opposed to the new charter, and expressing their intention of fighting it to the end.

WILL LAY CORNERSTONE NEW SCHOOL SATURDAY

The cornerstone to the new Crew street school will be laid Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the ceremonies for the occasion have been arranged in fine form.

President of the Board of Education Eugene Mitchell will preside over the exercises, and speeches will be made by prominent educators and citizens. Masonic ceremonies will also be a feature of the day's program.

The students of Fair street, Crew street, Formwalt street and Georgia avenue schools will participate in the exercises, giving as a close of the program their famous physical culture drill.

MAIL SERVICE AGAIN REDUCED

physical impossibility for the clerks that will remain on the Atlanta-Montgomery run to even begin to handle the mails as they should be handled. At least, this is the opinion of many who are in a better position to know than anyone else.

Already 20 feet has been cut off the mail cars running between Atlanta and Montgomery and as a result the shortened cars are not infrequently literally overrun with mail, piled up so high as to block the doors, cut off the men from the water coolers, lavatories and all other conveniences. Already the shortened cars and the cut in the number of clerks have made it impossible for the mails when it is the least bit above the average to be handled even moderately well, and those who know say that the contemplated change will paralyze the service.

At present four men are working in 40-foot cars and mails are daily being carried by their stations because they cannot be worked. Now the postoffice authorities are preparing to put only two men in 30-foot cars, with what result those who are familiar with the inside of mail cars say, they alone can guess.

As a result of this cut in the service, twenty-odd men who now live here and are employed on the run between here and Montgomery, will receive orders to move to Montgomery. They will be used on the trains between Montgomery and New Orleans, it is said.

Why Cut Is Made.

The excuse for this cut in service, it is claimed, is that a large part of the mail between Atlanta and Montgomery is for southern Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, and that this is not worked, even now, until the train reaches Montgomery. This being the case, the officials are said to claim, there is no use in having these men make the trip from Atlanta to Montgomery when they may begin work there just as well.

Clerks who are familiar with the run assert, however, that the one reason why mail for the southern points is not worked before the train reaches Montgomery is that there is no time before that in which to work it, as they are too busy with local mails to work the other until Montgomery is reached. The proposed cut, clerks say, will mean that the two clerks left on the run cannot begin to work the mails between the two cities; that towns en route will get their mail at just such times as the clerks can work it for them, and that deliveries in both cities will be delayed many hours.

The chamber of commerce probe committee is already giving this matter of reduced railway postal clerks and cars serious consideration, and it is believed that should the proposed cut be really effected, the committee will immediately set about taking all possible measures to have the order countermanded.

This order substantiates the special story from Washington published some six weeks ago in The Constitution.

ATLANTA MAN JAILED FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

David Sullivan Imprisoned for Refusing to Pay Alimony to His Wife.

Macon, Ga., September 14.—Because he refused to pay $25 a month alimony to his wife and declared that "the law could not make him do it," David E. Sullivan, a well-to-do contractor of Atlanta, was adjudged in contempt of court in the superior court today and sentenced to jail for five days.

He will be released next Tuesday. Sullivan formerly lived in Macon. His wife is suing him for divorce in this county.

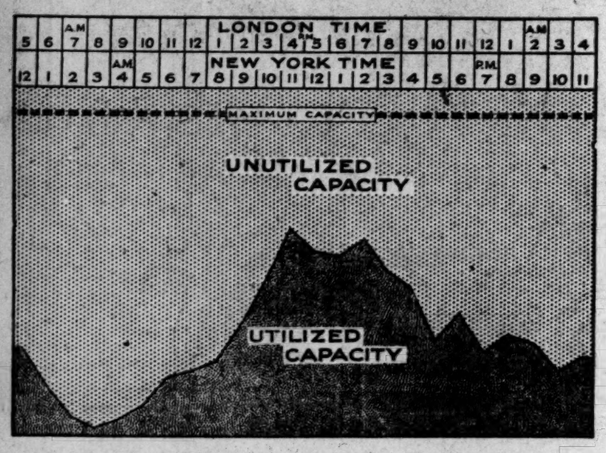
Trans-Atlantic Cable Business



Traffic Chart of Western Union, Anglo-American and Direct U. S. Cable Business, Showing Capacity of the Cables and the Proportion Now Utilized.

Proposed Modification of Existing Arrangements

A provisional modification of an arrangement which has existed for many years has been reached between the Western Union Telegraph Company, The Anglo-American Cable Company and the Direct U. S. Cable Company, under which the cable systems of these companies now worked exclusively in business connection with each other, but operated and maintained separately, will be operated in direct physical connection with each other and with the Western Union land system.

Two objects are to be attained by this arrangement:

First, more efficient and economical operation.

Second, the introduction of new forms of service to the advantage of the public.

The Trans-Atlantic Cable Situation and Competition

The trans-Atlantic cable situation is as follows:

The Mackay group of seven cables, including the German cables, owned by or worked in physical connection with the telegraph lines of that company form one system.

The French cables comprise an independent system, using both the Western Union and the Mackay land lines for their United States connection.

In competition with these is the Western Union group of cables, eight in all, owned by three separate companies, two of which are British companies owning five of the eight cables.

Two only of the British owned cables terminate in the United States and all of them are entirely dependent on the Western Union for their connection with any telegraph system, or for their reaching any centre of business, and are now worked exclusively, so far as business is concerned, with the Western Union.

Efficiency Increased, Waste Prevented

The proposed arrangement between the Western Union, the Anglo-American and the Direct U. S. companies will bring the eight cables of the three companies under one operating control. The consequent increase in effectiveness and economy will place the Western Union in a position to offer certain advantages in cable service not now enjoyed by the public.

The other way open to enable the Western Union to make such improvements and introduce such new services as it proposes to do, would be to lay new cables. This would seem to be the height of folly. Duplication of the existing trans-Atlantic cable facilities at a cost of many millions, when there are more than ample facilities for all business, would put an unnecessary financial burden upon an already fully burdened business and would probably postpone the reduction of rates or introduction of new services.

Limited Business Hours and Idle Facilities

As at present carried on, the trans-Atlantic cable business is practically all flash service, i. e. instantaneous. Owing to the difference in time, there are only a few business hours of the day common to both sides and during these hours at least 75% of the cable business is done. This is demonstrated by the accompanying chart.

In the interests of international business nothing should be done to interfere in any way with the so-called flash or instantaneous service, and the lines should be kept clear to accommodate such messages during the few business hours common to both countries; but to continue to confine the cables to this class of service, as at present, will utilize only about 25% of the existing capacity of millions of property and places on that limited service all the capital, maintenance and operating charges.

The limited time and the character of the business, if best results are to be obtained, demand direct cable circuits between principal centres of the two sides of the Atlantic, as well as special circuits devoted to special business.

Efficient Service Requires Sufficient Facilities

To meet these requirements it is essential not only that there be at all times sufficient cable facilities, under one control, but that they should be operated interchangeably with each other and in close physical connection with land lines as one system. Ample spare facilities are necessary to provide against the very frequent cable interruptions.

Neither the Western Union nor any one of the companies of the Western Union group has, independently of the others, facilities enough to handle the business which at times any one company might be called upon to take care of, because of some particular rush of business, or because of some cable interruption. Nor could any one company furnish all the direct circuits necessary for efficient service, although the combined facilities of these companies are ample if they could be used supplementary to each other and interchangeably.

As it is, each company operates its own cables through separate and distinct offices and under separate and distinct management. All interchange of business is by actual transfer of the business from one company to the other, with the consequent delay and interruption of a service in which seconds are valuable.

Daily and Week-end Cable Letters

So soon as the proposed arrangement goes into effect, the Western Union purposes, with the consent of the British Post Office Department, to introduce at least two new features or services in addition to the proposed deferred rate—the

DAILY CABLE LETTER
and the
WEEK-END CABLE LETTER

at a very low rate for cable service only. This will enable the public to save the six to eight days consumed in the trans-Atlantic passage of mails.

Monopoly of Cable Business Impossible

There is no cable monopoly possible. The three systems—the Western Union, the French and the Mackay—will continue to exist.

The Mackay Companies is a holding organization with no physical property, but exercising through stock ownership, lease or contract, operating control of various companies owning land lines and cables which make up the Mackay System. Through this control all the various properties are operated as one system to great advantage in service over what could be given by these same companies if operated separately.

The French cables form another system.

The Western Union System, under the proposed arrangement for one operating control over the present segregated units, will be enabled to make two distinct advances in the trans-Atlantic cable business:

1—BETTER SERVICE. This will be insured by more efficient and economical working resulting from single direction over the operations of both cables and land lines.

2—PUBLIC ADVANTAGES. The greater part of the cable capacity has been and is now unutilized. It will continue to lie dormant and unutilized under existing conditions and traditions. The Western Union purposes to make these wasted facilities useful to the public by means of new kinds of cable service.

In addition, the Western Union intends to nationalize its land lines by opening them to all trans-Atlantic cable companies.

LARGER ANNUAL GIFTS WANTED BY CHARITIES

In an effort to secure "larger annual gifts from the people of Atlanta" as a means of relieving social conditions, the Associated Charities is sending out circular letters and pamphlets showing the methods and the kind of work of the organization.

"Charitable need is generally caused by adverse conditions, or accidental misfortune rather than by evil passions and indolence," says the letter sent out by the association, and "need so caused does not merit, nor should it involve, the natural punishment of sin."

By bringing out these facts and by indicating the need of further aid to the sick and poor the association hopes to secure much greater co-operation in its work.

CONTINUANCE GRANTED IN LITHONIA CASES

Weyman H. Braswell, Hurly Nash, Jack Dutton, Arthur Binion, Johnny Sills, Luther Powell and William Medlock, the seven Lithonia stone cutters on strike who are charged with having held up during the latter part of August five strike breakers, were brought before Judge Roan for trial in Decatur county yesterday morning, but the cases were continued. The defendant's attorney, James D. Kilpatrick, of Atlanta, asked the court for a continuance because of absence of witnesses.

Solicitor General C. S. Reid, of the DeKalb superior court, and James L. Key, of Atlanta, aiding in the prosecution objected strenuously, declaring that the defendants had had abundant time since their arrest and preliminary trial to have had the witnesses wanted served with subpoenas.

FLOWER GIRL WELL PLAYED BY MISS EDITH M'BRIDE

MISS EDITH MACBRIDE (Mrs. George Beban), Who plays the cashier in the beautiful floral shop scene in the "Sign of the Rose" company.

In the hastily-prepared review of George Beban's "Sign of the Rose" in The Constitution of Tuesday morning there was no reference made to the really excellent portrayal of the flower girl in the third act by Miss MacBride, who in private life is Mrs. George Beban. This omission was unintentional on the part of the writer, who was greatly impressed, as was the entire audience, with her splendid bit of acting.

Miss MacBride brought to the role a deft touch and a delicious humor which made the character pulsate with vigorous life. In fact, small though the part was, it was as skilfully portrayed as anything in the play. Violet is a vivid, stunning, striking personality. You have seen her prototype in the shops of big cities countless times.

The cleverness of this portrayal is characteristic of the play as a whole. A number of characters with only a paltry line or two are in the hands of actors of rare ability.

CONNECT ALBANY WITH THE GULF

Georgia Southwestern and Gulf Will Probably Be Extended at Once.

Albany, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—Changes on the board of directors of the Georgia Southwestern and Gulf railway at the annual meeting of the company here are believed to forecast the early carrying out of the project for building the line from Albany to the Gulf of Mexico, St. Andrews Bay being the objective point.

The line at present extends from Albany to Cordele. The survey was made months ago, but unavoidable delays have been encountered.

The board of directors just elected is made up of the following well-known Georgians: F. F. Putney, Albany; H. J. Bruton, Bainbridge; John E. Donalson, Bainbridge; B. P. O'Neal, Macon; P. S. Cummings, Bainbridge; John W. Callahan, Bainbridge; J. T. Shingler, Donalsonville; C. H. Caldwell, Bainbridge; W. M. Legg, Albany. The report of the year's operations showed the road to be in excellent shape.

Moultrie to Fort Gaines Organized.

Valdosta, Ga., September 14.—(Special.)—An organization of the Moultrie and Fort Gaines railroad, which is to be a part of the Valdosta, Moultrie and Western railroad, was effected at a meeting of the stockholders in Valdosta. Frank Roberts, president of the Valdosta, Moultrie and Western, was elected president; W. B. Conoly, vice president; W. L. Roberts, who holds a like position with the Valdosta, Moultrie and Western railroad, was elected secretary and treasurer.

It has been the intention of the builders of the Valdosta, Moultrie and Western railroad, which was completed between Valdosta and Moultrie a year and a half ago, to extend the line westward, eventually to Montgomery. In conformity with this plan a survey of the country between Moultrie and Fort Gaines has been under way for some time and has recently been completed. Practically the entire right-of-way has been settled upon and it is understood that the actual work of building the line will commence in a very short time.

COX COLLEGE OPENS WITH ENTERTAINMENT

Pleasing Exercises Mark Beginning of Auspicious Term.

With characteristic beauty and brilliance, Cox College entertained a large body of visitors Tuesday morning in honor of the opening of the sixty-ninth session. An artistic program of music and readings was followed by greetings from distinguished visitors and friends.

The splendid talent of the conservatory faculty was displayed with fine effect in the musical program, where the interest and enthusiasm grew with each succeeding number. Mr. Kurt Mueller is a great pianist, who, in his own playing, illustrates the principles of his successful teaching. Miss Milner, one of the latest additions to the faculty, was enthusiastically received. Mr. Marshbank also sang with splendid effect, and Mr. Lindner's numbers for the violin were artistic and beautiful. The readings of Misses Eastlack and Arnold, of the oratory department, gave a pleasing variety to the program and awakened the deepest interest. A number of strong and inspiring talks were made by the visiting pastors.

The work of organization and classification is going forward rapidly under the able principal, Dr. M. M. Hargrove.

All things point to a year of most attractive and profitable college work.

THEATERS

"The Sign of the Rose."
(At the Atlanta.)

Only two more chances are left for Atlantans to see the sensationally successful inaugural play of the Atlanta theater. This afternoon George Beban and his pleasing company will present "The Sign of the Rose" at a special ladies' and children's matinee and tonight the organization will pack up and say good-bye to Atlanta.

"The Red Rose" Is Next.
(At the Atlanta.)

The next attraction at the Atlanta is "The Red Rose," which opens an engagement of two nights and a matinee Tuesday, on Monday night. Seats have been placed on sale for this production, which is the first big musical comedy of the season. Sixty people appear in "The Red Rose," which is new and direct from New York. A company of rare excellence has been organized by John C. Fisher, of "Florodora" fame, for the big western cities and it is that company which will appear here.

"Alma, Where Do You Live?"
(At the Atlanta.)

Another successful musical comedy is billed for next week. It opens on Wednesday night and will continue for four nights with a popular-price matinee on Saturday. The great secret of the success of the German-French farce, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" is the music. This play ran a whole season at Weber's theater, New York city.

Tim Murphy.
(At the Grand.)

Here's a line from Tim Murphy's comedy, "The New Code," which will be his offering at the Grand Monday and Tuesday evenings: "Out of the so-called model home, come both the cause of reform and the reformer." This suggests a problem play, but it chances that "The New Code" has no such pretention. "The New Code" is satisfied with detailing the history of one model home, at the head of which is a so-called model woman, and a really model old gentleman that fits Mr. Murphy like a glove, and who within the limits of three acts meets with innumerable problems which he finally surmounts with action and not solutions. In fine, were "The New Code" not a comedy, it would be a problem play. The opportunity is great for both.

"The Millionaire Kid."
(At the Lyric.)

Mr. Lem B. Parker, the well-known dramatist, and W. R. Williams, the noted song writer, have apparently outdone themselves in writing this newest of Kilroy-Britton's productions, "The Millionaire Kid," which comes to the Lyric for a week, commencing next Monday night.

This makes the second season for "The Millionaire Kid" and the stamp of approval was so strongly placed on it that the producing firm who control this popular play have again decided to send it out even stronger than before.

Raymond Paine, who met with such a success in the title role last season, has again been re-engaged to play the same part and is supported by Miss Georgie Hays and an exceptionally clever cast and chorus.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Lyric.)

All indications are that the final week of the summer season at the Lyric, which closes Saturday evening, will see a new attendance record established at the cosy little theater on Carnegie Way. "The Blue Mouse," which is the week's bill, has proved immensely popular, and has served to present Miss Emma Bunting, the leading lady, in what is generally considered the best role she has appeared in thus far. Standing room was at a premium at yesterday's matinee, and hearty and sincere applause attested the approval of the audience. "The Blue Mouse" is a farce comedy in three acts. It is by Clyde Fitch, and is the funniest play ever written by him. At the hands of the Bunting players, it is being given a sumptuous production.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

There are many good acts on the bill at the Forsyth this week that have contributed in a general way to the immense strength and the great interest there is in vaudeville. From the opening act when Rem-Brandt, an unusually good novelty entertainer an artist who makes amusing cartoons with an ordinary air brush, to the clever cycle act of the Dunedin troupe, there is not a wasted minute, and with such great acts as Covington and Wilber in their protean sketch, playing seven different and distinct characters, and Henry Horton and Company, who are strong in rural comedy, the bill rounds out as good and as clever as anything that the house has presented.

The comedy contribution of Sower and Mack, the cleverest and most original black-face entertainers of the season, give to the program a mighty pleasing and refreshing light, and the other acts serve entertainment that is up to the Forsyth standard.

Attendance has been right up to the high mark, and with such unusual and popular counter attractions the Forsyth has thoroughly established itself as Atlanta's busiest and most popular theater.

Seventy Autumn Suits at Nearly Half Price

VALUE $21.75 SPECIAL $12.50

We Don't Think You've Ever Before Seen Such a Combination of Quality and Style at Such a Low Price

A PARADOX. That's what this offering is. After a long, long summer, dawns a day with an exhilarating touch of Autumn and as if it were the signal waited for, we ADVERTISE seasonable SUITS worth $21.75 at $12.50.

EXPLAINED. The manufacturer had short lengths of materials left on hand. Enough of this to make one SUIT, of that to make two SUITS, of another to make three SUITS. Not enough of any one stuff for a full range of sizes. He made them up for us in the NEWEST models at about half price.

There are but seventy SUITS in the lot. Bought regularly, our price would be $21.75. Secured as we secured them the price is $12.50.

They are fashionable COAT SUITS, made of all-wool fancy worsteds and serges. Examine the fabrics carefully. Honest weaves. Not a flaw in spinning or dyeing. Strong, hardy, serviceable stuffs in exactly the right weight for early Fall wear.

The coats are 28 and 30 inches long. You may trust the workmanship and the finish. Both are on a par with our standard $21.75 SUITS.

Good colors—black, blue, brown, gray, stone and wood shades.

The only weak, poor thing about them is the price—$12.50.

Autumn Millinery

Tune your minds for the MILLINERY DISPLAY.

Get in the right mental state. EXPEL the buying thought. Come with the idea of enjoying beauty—just as you would visit an art gallery. The HATS are pictures in crystal cases. The ART element is strong. The motifs were caught from the very cradle of ART. Their story can't be told in an ADVERTISEMENT.

The EGYPTIANS wore a variety of caps—sometimes rising to a great height above the head.

Does that fact explain PAUL POIRET'S inspiration that produced the STOVEPIPE HAT? Perhaps.

Whence came the designs of the motifs that decorate many of the HATS? They are ancient. Study the cinerary urns, tombs, shields, helmets, breast-plates, cuirasses, chariots, prows of galleys, yes, and clasps and hinges and even the fictile vases of the GREEKS and ROMANS.

Even the little POKE BONNET has its historical significance.

There are brilliant colors—plenty of them. They are beautiful. They appear in wonderful harmonies and striking contrasts. But it seems that PARIS emphasizes black, or white, or black-and-white for RECEPTION, CARRIAGE and EVENING HATS. That's why we show so many of them.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

NARROW RANGE IN COTTON PRICES

Fluctuations Irregular and the Close Was Steady—Spot Closed Lower.

New York, September 14.—The cotton market was less active today and fluctuated irregularly within a range of ten points, with the close steady at a decline of 4 points on September, but net unchanged to 1 point higher on later months.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 2 points and while the cables were a shade lower than due, active positions sold about 2 to 3 points net higher during the first few minutes, on scattered covering and a little support from bullish sources.

The south sold on the slight advance, weather advices were considered generally favorable, and the market soon weakened under a renewal of local pressure and scattering liquidation, part of which came from yesterday's buyers. December, which had sold at 11.43 early eased off to 11.35, but at this level leading bull brokers became buyers and the market subsequently fluctuated irregularly on a very small volume of business with closing prices some 4 to 6 points up from the lowest on the active months. September eased off in the late trading, under a little selling which was said to be against producing here shipments from the south from delivery on contract.

A private crop report issued late in the day showed a deterioriation for the past month of about 8 per cent, but making the present condition 73.3 per cent, proved rather more favorable than the report from Memphis yesterday. Further declines were reported in some of the southern spot markets and the continuance of comparatively moderate southern selling here undoubtedly tended to increase the tendency of local bears to sell on advances in connection with the prospect for continued good weather and the outlook for record breaking receipts.

Receipts at the ports today, 30,710 bales against 16,588 last week and 27,541 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1,481 against 288 last year, and at Houston, 19,651 against 14,720 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet 5 points lower; middling uplands, 11.80; middling gulf, 12.05; sales 40 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, September 14.—Spot cotton steady, unchanged; middling, 11 9-16; sales on the spot, 700 bales; to arrive, 350; low ordinary, 8¼, nominal; ordinary, 8 15-16, nominal; good ordinary, 10⅜; strict good ordinary, 10¾; low middling, 11 1-16; strict low middling, 11 5-16; middling, 11 9-16; strict middling, 11 11-16; good middling, 11 13-16; strict good middling, 12⅛; middling fair, 12 7-16; middling fair to fair, 12 13-16; fair, 13 3-16, nominal; receipts, 1,481; stock, 19,769.

Cotton futures opened steady, 1 point off to 4 points up. Cables were not quite up to expectations and the weather map was extremely good, but, in spite of this the demand was good enough around the first call to put the trading months four to six points over yesterday's close. On this small advance, ring traders took a bearish position on reports of weakness in the stock market and sold heavily, with the result that at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 1@2 points under yesterday's close.

The entire morning session was dull and featureless. Reports from the crop were favorable and the weather indications were apparently for the continuation of fine harvesting conditions. Against this, as a bearish factor, was the claim by spot firms that the inquiry for actual cotton was much better. Exporters reported fairly good sales to Bremen and stated that Havre was raising its bids. This news held the market steady in the face of the dullness. At noon prices were 2 to 4 points under yesterday's close.

In the afternoon, the market was dull but steady.

At 2 o'clock, prices were unchanged to 2 points over yesterday's close.

The market closed steady, 1 point down to 5 points up compared with yesterday's close.

Dry Goods.

New York, September 14.—The China market is buying liberally of heavy sheetings for November-December shipment. Gingham business is coming freely for spring deliveries. Fine plain cottons are easy. Jobbers are doing a good trade with retailers and miscellaneous distributers. Yarns are in slightly better demand.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, September 14.—The cotton seed oil market was easier at the outset, with further liquidation, but rallied on covering due to reports of a better export demand, as well as buying for domestic consumption, closing 2 to 6 points net higher.

Spot—Prime crude, 4,905.20; do. summer yellow, 6.75@6.80; do. winter yellow, 6.60; prime summer white, 6.50. Futures ranged as follows:

	Opening.	Closing.
September	6.45@6.55	6.59@6.60
October	5.90@5.95	5.03@5.06
November	5.77@5.78	5.88@5.89
December	5.80@5.82	5.87@5.89
January	5.75@5.76	5.88@5.89
February	5.75@5.79	5.88@5.93
March	5.79@5.81	5.90@5.93

New Orleans, September 14.—Cotton seed oil: Prime refined in barrels, per pound, 6.00; choice meal, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $29.00; choice cake, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $2.850.

RALLY FOLLOWED SLUMP IN STOCKS

Upward Movement in Afternoon—Heavy Covering of Short Contracts.

New York, September 14.—In the course of a day, that was both exciting and disquieting to Wall street traders, stocks slumped severely, only to recover later on. The selling early in the session was in such volume as to flood the market. New Haven fell below the low point of the panic of 1907 and sold at 126⅞, its lowest figure since the stock was placed on a settled dividend paying basis following the road's organization in 1872. The active list generally established another of the numerous low records for the year which have been made in the last few weeks. Losses ran to more than three points with larger declines among inactive issue.

The upward movement which set in early in the afternoon was as irresistible as the morning's decline. There was urgent and heavy covering of short contracts, particularly in Union Pacific, United States Steel and Reading. Union Pacific, which had fallen to 157¼, touched 160 and United States Steel, which had sold at 65¼, reached 67. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Erie first preferred, Great Northern preferred Canadian Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Consolidated Gas rose to a point or more above yesterday's final price. The market eased off at the close.

The erratic movement of stocks produced considerable tension. The early declines were due largely to selling by London and to a large supply of stock on different orders from Berlin. The pressure from this source was aggravated by aggressive operations for the short account. The market seemed to be approaching a critical condition when substantial support was given.

London's transactions in this market were estimated at 20,000 shares, chiefly sales. Further light on financial conditions in Europe was shed by the advance of the Bank of Belgium's discount rate from 3½ per cent, the rate which has prevailed since May, to 4½ and by the advance in the private rate of discount at Berlin. The Bank of England's weekly statement showed that it had preserved the abnormally high percentage of reserve to liabilities, the figures remaining unchanged at 58.10 per cent.

Heaviest business for the railroads was indicated by the compilation of September returns which have been received. Gross earnings of 21 roads for the first week of September increased $359,000 or 8.70 per cent.

The bond market was irregular with heaviness which was followed by an improvement. Total sales, par value, $2,585,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

Money and Exchange.

New York, September 14.—Money on call steady 2¼@2½ per cent. Ruling rate, 2½; closing bid, 2¼; offered at 2½.

Time loans strong; 60 days, 3@3¼ per cent; 90 days, 3¼@3½; six months, 4.

Prime mercantile paper, 4¾ per cent.

Sterling exchange easy with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8260 for 60-day bills and at $4.8605@4.8610 for demand.

Bar silver, 52¾.

Mexican dollars, 45. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

New York, September 14.—With minor fluctuations the market closed unchanged, with the trade looking for some little improvement in Liverpool tomorrow, as arbitrage brokers were buying here today before the close of the foreign markets. The large spot houses were sellers of hedges for the first time this season from time to time during the day, but the local fielding is that the spinners will absorb so much cotton on this level that no great decline is likely to occur. On this account, they were quick to absorb the late selling and will probably continue to do so unless it becomes heavy enough to show that the forward commitments on this basis have been filled.

WHEAT WAS WEAK ON BIG ACREAGE

Market Closed One-Quarter to One-Half Lower—Corn Up. Oats Down.

Chicago, September 14.—Announcement that an increase of the winter wheat acreage in the United States the coming season is now almost a certainty had considerable effect today in making the market weak. Closing figures were ¼ to ¼@½ under last night. The end of trading left corn ⅛ up to ¼ off; oats ⅛ to ⅜ down and hog products unchanged to 12½ decline.

Assertions of enlarged planting of winter wheat were credited to a leading trade authority and were assumed to represent the result of wide and thorough inquiry. In addition reports were at hand from Germany and France telling of prospects of a larger crop this year than had previously been expected. Greatly beneficial rains which had fallen throughout a large portion of India formed, likewise, an influence against the bulls. Besides, there was much disappointment at the entire absence of cash demand either for export or milling. Flour distributors were out of the market. Wet weather also favored bears. On the other hand, there was no evidence of short selling. Chiefly for this negative reason better support developed near the close and made the final tone firm, but with only part of the day's losses overcome. Between the opening and the finish December ranged from 96½ and 96⅞ with last sales ¼ net lower at 96½@96⅝.

Longs supplied all demands for corn and it was said a noted speculator had disposed of the last of his line of September. On the ensuing break he bought May. The country, especially the west, offered both old and new corn freely today. December fluctuated from 64⅛ to .65 and closed off ⅛ but firm at 64⅝@64¾. Cash grades were unsettled. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 68@68¾.

In oats the feature was selling by houses recently the largest buyers. There were export bids at near the market, but the terms of shipment were not satisfactory. High and low levels touched for December were 46¼ and 45⅝@45⅞, with last sales ¼ to ⅜ off, a loss of ⅜ from last night.

Moderate selling by small packers eased off provisions. When the pit was clear pork was unchanged to 12½ lower and other products down 2½ to 5.

CHAPTER VII.

By Jos. Wardin.

Chapter six concluded with the weights of cock, cockerel, hen and pullet of Light Brahmas. These weights are necessary if they are to be shown at the fairs, as the points are deducted for each pound below requirements. That is when the score card system is used, comparison judging is another story to come later. In judging Light Brahmas, weight is given fifteen points, legs and toes 6 and symmetry (harmony of parts) 10, fluff 5, wings 7, tail 7, back 6, breast and body 10, neck 10, earlobes and wattles 5, head 5, comb 8 and condition 8, making a total of 100 points. At the fairs the birds are required to match in the show pen, or be disqualified, and the same misfortune will happen should the comb fall over to one side, the wings have twisted feathers or the legs be of any other color but yellow, or fall in the feathering down the sides and to the end of the toes, not omitting even the middle toe feathering. Vulture hocks are also among the disqualifications and so are wry tails and crooked backs as well as black in the web of the feathers of the back, though slight dark or black stripes are permitted in the saddle of the cocks near the tail. No cocks are permitted to compete for premiums that do not weigh seven pounds nor cockerels that do not weigh seven and one-half pounds, and the pullet six pounds. It will be seen that there is quite a proportion of black in the plumage of a Light Brahma, as may be noticed on the wings, back and tail, and it is the strong contrast of the colors with the white that often sets them off to such good advantage. The hackles of the hens are not always secured of the proper mingling of colors, and judgment is requirer mating them so as to secure the largest number of exhibition birds. Light Brahma chicks come from the shell with a sort of creamy white or yellowish downy plumage throughout. Absolute buff in color I would reject as an evidence of impurity. A chick showing traces of black on the back, and black in the tail, as a rule, will mature altogether too dark in color of neck and back.

Another point as to the proper mating of the parent birds can be discovered as soon as the chicks appear, viz.: If the feathering on the outer or middle toe is completely lacking, i. e., destitute of downy plumage, you should change the mating of the old birds at once, since it would be unwise to continue it when it is plain that you are breeding a stock of chicks which, in nearly every case, at maturity will lose from one to three points in their score; and, if these deficiencies can be in a measure remedied on seeing the first hatching, why not make the change? The standard demands well-feathered outer and middle toes. The largest size and best feathered on toes at hatching time prove to be cockerels in the end.

Also, at about three weeks old or a little older, the serrations on combs are developed sufficiently to be able to say whether the comb will ultimately be well serrated, and the three sections of the same can be discovered. Also, the much-desired black stripe on beak will begin to appear, and by its intensity, especially in cockerels, you can discover whether or not the chances are good for a sufficient amount of black in neck. At this age the chicken feathers begin to appear, and from this time until maturity the change of plumage is constantly going on; little by little it presents itself, first on neck, then on breast, then on back and tail, and no sooner than is the complete, the neck begins to change, the chick feathers fall out and the adult hackle appears, little at a time, which is at from three to five months. The backs of pullets from three to five months old are not unfrequently spotted with black, and the under-color dark; but, unless overabundant, there is no necessity for alarm, since in a great majority of cases on these falling out they will be replaced by those of standard color.

For the benefit of those not familiar with the appearance of an official score card signed by a judge, I am appending one—am using an old one, simply to show the name of the judge and what he was doing nine years ago. Judge Brown and myself met on that occasion for the first time:

Vincennes, famous in the annals of aviation, is noted also for its mediaeval chauteau with castle and donjon. The walls of the rooms of the keep have been incumbered and hidden with old harnesses and arms. The stairway, trodden by so many kings, princes and cardinals, has been restored and the prison, council chamber and the apartments of Charles V. have been brought back to their pristine beauty. The donjon has been transformed into a museum where bric-a-brac of objects more or less authentic will be sold, but the beauty of the architecture is now visible to all who care to make a pilgrimage to the place.—London Globe.

ON WEST CAIN ST., in a stone's throw of the Lyric Theater, and in 1,000 feet of Peachtree street, we offer a sub-division of small store lots, 21 feet front by 75 feet. This is the kind of property to buy and lay aside for a nest egg. They looked so good that we purchased one, and have made arrengements to build at once; $500 cash, balance 1, 2 and 3 years; interest at 6 per cent. Be wise and pick out your lot.

$275 PER FOOT—SPRING AND WALTON STREETS.

ACROSS from the Moore property that is to be improved with business property, on Spring street, near Walton, we can deliver a lot fronting 75 feet on Spring street. It is within 350 feet of Marietta street, where they are asking $1,000 per front foot, and fronting property that sold at auction for $365 per front foot twelve months ago. The grade work is to be started soon, and it is certain to bring $500 per front foot then.

My Friends—Here is the best bargain of its size in the state: Nearly 750 acres of the richest red pebbly land with clay subsoil in the world; 150 acres of it in cultivation; 6-room house on public road. If that land will not make $125 to $150 worth of sea island cotton to the acre, we will give the farm to the first man who offers $9,000 cash for it. This is a sacrifice and the farm must be sold by October 1.

That land will bring $150 an acre in ten years. Think of making $100,000 on an investment of $9,000 in a decade.

I am just back from South Georgia and am more of a bull on Georgia lands than ever.

That same farm in Tift, Colquitt or Bulloch would bring $30,000 right now.

There are a few sections which the boom has not yet reached.

See me and I will put you wise.

$3.00 PER ACRE CASH

WE HAVE SEVERAL thousand acres of good farming lands with the A., B. & A. R. R. running through these tracts, that we are offering at $3 per acre, cash. Call at the office and let us show you what we have.

Coffee.

New York, September 14.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of from 3 to 5 points on near months, which were influenced by covering and a little bull support, while other positions were unchanged and the market later eased off, under scattering liquidation or realizing and moderate trade selling in the absence of support. Firm offers from Brazil, while still reported above a parity, were said to be a shade easier with the larger Brazilian receipts tending to create rather more confidence in bearish crop views and in the late trading here. Selling may also have been encouraged by easier late cables afrom Havre. The close was barely steady with last prices net unchanged to 6 points lower. Sales, 54,000 bags.

Havre was ¼ higher to ½ lower at the hour of the local opening, but declined, closing net unchanged to ½ lower. Hamburg was net unchanged to ½ higher. Rio, 75 reis higher at 7$200; Santos unchanged, fours, 7$900; sevens, 7$300.

Brazilian exchange on London, 1-32d lower at 16¼d.

Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 97,000, against 85,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts, 68,000, against 8,300.

New York warehouse deliveries yesterday, 16,641, against 14,757 bags last year.

Spot steady; Rio No. 7, 13½; Santos, No. 4, 14½. Mild quiet. Cordova, 4@16, nominal.

Talks on Georgia School of Technology

Part 1.

THE MAN WHO KNOWS

A few years ago a sturdy Georgia boy from Cobb County entered the Ga. Tech. Freshman Class, and took a course in Textile Engineering. On graduation day, two good positions were offered the young man. He refused both and hired out as a cotton mill operative in order to familiarize himself with all the details of the cotton mill industry. A brave act this! Moreover, it is an exhibition of foresight that few young men display these days.

After a few years of hard work, during which time he occupied various positions of responsibility, constantly studying the different phases of cotton milling, from the handling of labor to the designing of machinery, he became superintendent of the Bibb Manufacturing Co., Porterdale, Ga. Recently another promotion came and he became General Manager of the Floyd Cotton Mills at Rome, a position of great trust and responsibility. We refer to Mr. D. D. Towers, class '02, whose remarkable success is a proof of the value of a technical training to a young man of grit and ability.

An education at the Georgia School of Technology has a decided CASH VALUE. It opens the door of opportunity to Georgia's sons, either in the mill or in the shop or the great world of scientific endeavor. Young man—do you wish such an opportunity?

Suit to Develop Sensation.

Monroe, La., September 14.—The state of Louisiana through the attorney general tonight filed suit in the district court here asking for an annulment of the transfer of about 900,000 acres of land in northern Louisiana to the Tensas Delta Company by the Tensas basin levee board, the consideration being $60,000. The land is valued at $5 to $15 per acre. Sensational developments in connection with the suit are expected.

G. O. P. Leader Fined $1,200.

New York, September 14.—Charles F. Brooker, republican national committeeman of Connecticut, as president of the Coe Brass Manufacturing Company, the member of the Barbi Copper Association, appeared before Judge Houghlin in the United States circuit court today and entered a plea of nole contendre to three indictments against him in the steel wire cases. He was fined $1,200; $1,000 on the first indictment and $100 each on the other two amendment as substituted, but urged that "gentlemen sleep on the question overnight" and called attention to the fact that the hour for adjournment had arrived. His voice was drowned by cries for the motion, and when quiet was restored, Governor Shafroth, of Colorado, urged that the action of the conference be made unanimous.

"Suppose, governor," asked Governor Gilchrist, "that the supreme court had already made up its mind, would your committee go up and bull-doze it into changing its opinion?"

The reply was lost in the laughter that followed.

Governor Hoke Smith For Protest.

Hoke Smith, governor of Georgia, supported the motion. "If the decision of Justice Sanborn becomes the law of this country," he said, "then the twilight zone will be so broadened that we will never see daylight again in the region of passenger and freight rates. Once the question is decided this way, the state railroad commissions will be emasculated, and then we will return to that condition where the interstate commerce commission will have no control of intrastate rates and the carriers can do exactly as they please."

Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, supported the motion, urged postponement upon the plea of Governor Gilchrist, but the latter announced that he supported the substitute measure.

The Twenty-Five Protestants.

Governor Kitchin then said that he wanted no postponement, and, while favoring the principle, would oppose the motion because he thought that the action was beyond the conference's scope. The vote showed that he was alone in the negative.

The twenty-five states whose governors voted for the motion are: Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

"I have no idea as yet how we will present the matter to the supreme court," Governor Harmon said after the session. "I have yet to talk over the subject with other members of the committee. I suppose we will call a meeting and map out a line to pursue."

Women Talk To Governors.

Earlier in the day Dr. Anna Shaw, president of a woman's suffrage association, made a plea before the governors for suffrage for women. Mrs. J. W. Brannan, of the Woman's Political Union of New York, who preceded Dr. Shaw, also urged the ballot for women. Mrs. Abram Van Winkle, of Newark, N. J., head of a New Jersey organibation, presented a petition to the governors. Representing the militant wing of the party she demanded that each state executive, including Governor Woodrow Wilson, come into the open with his views and "in the light of pitiless publicity allign himself with one side or the other of the question."

No formal action was taken by the governors, however.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

INGLY AS IT SOUNDED, which is unusual. Great orators can carry you away with their voice and gestures, but when their speech is printed in cold type, it is not often that it reads as good as it sounds.

I first knew Mr. Dockrell when he was handling the advertising of SCOTT'S EMULSION. He was nothing but a kid then, but he had GOOD JUDGMENT AND BRAINS.

HE STUDIED CONDITIONS in different parts of the country and wrote the advertising copy with those conditions in mind—that is, he would write one style of copy for one section of the country, and another style for another section.

He was working on the RIGHT BASIS then, just as he is working on the right basis now. And what a wonderfully EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGN HE IS WAGING FOR THE NEWSPAPERS.

He is an earnest ADVOCATE OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING—he knows and acknowledges the POWER of the daily newspaper as an advertising medium.

Just read this chunk of wisdom from his Boston speech:

"You should take the newspaper and get into the locality and you can say—'These are the conditions here—these are the goods that will fill them. In this region WE ARE ADVERTISING IN THE MEDIUM THAT YOU HAVE BEEN READING SINCE YOU WERE A CHILD—go to it.'"

That's it—ADVERTISE IN THE HOME PAPER—THE PAPER THAT IS PART OF THE COMMUNITY—THAT RECORDS THE DAILY LIFE OF THE PEOPLE.

An advertiser cannot go wrong if he does that.

SPEAKERS NAMED FOR BIG MEETING

greatly encouraged Thursday over the interest that is being aroused in the new charter proposition. Each member made encouraging reports of the situation in each of the ten wards. The ward committeemen have gone actiyely to work organizing their respective wards and the ground work is being laid for a whirlwind campaign which will result in an overwhelming victory for the new charter on election day.

The telephone at campaign headquarters is kept busy in response to queries about the new charter and the number of inquiries and personal calls received indicates a rapid spread of sentiment in its favor. Citizens from every section of the city are volunteering their services, and the host of active workers in behalf of the charter is daily increasing.

In addition to the ward meetings and the central rally Saturday night, the committee has decided to wind up the campaign with a big mass meeting to be held at the Grand Opera House on the night of September 26, the night before the election.

With the announcement Thursday of the committees from the fifth and tenth wards, the organization of all the wards of the city in the interest of the new charter is complete, with the exception of the first and the third.

The committeemen from these two wards will be announced some time Friday.

Fifth Ward Committee.

The committee from the fifth ward, as announced Thursday, is as follows: W. H. Young, Dr. William Cawhern, Dr. W. B. Benson, F. H. Rosier, W. H. Johnson, Ed Hancock, Mike Speer, A. W. Langston, B. E. Watson, J. L. Watkins, W. J. Warren, A. W. Ware, E. W. Walton, W. A. Spinks, J. A. Fouth, J. R. Simpson, Wade A. Sellers, C. O. Kent, J. W. Hoxie, J. W. Echols, Phil Dobson, J. A. Youngblood, Henry J. Hill, Rev. W. W. Brinsfield, John B. Bradford.

Tenth Ward Committee.

The tenth ward committee is as follows:

James A. Helmon, R. C. Johnson, Mc. W. Milner, W. H. Phillips, W. M. Everett, A. A. Brown, W. W. Tracy, Guy Bowman, M. W. Almand, A. P. Morgan.

dence which the emperor reposed in him.

Wound Said to Be Mortal.

St. Petersburg, September 14.—Alexander Stolypin, a political writer of The Novoe Vremya, who is a brother of the premier, received a telegram from Kiev, stating that a bullet perforated the premier's lung.

According to dispatches to the newspaper here, the liver was perforated and the wound is mortal. According to the same dispatches, after the wounded premier was removed from the house, the audience insisted upon singing the national anthem.

$300,000 Loss by Fire.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 14.—Fire destroyed a group of five buildings of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad shops here late today. The loss was estimated at $300,000. The flames broke out in a coach shop. The 500 workmen in the shops fled for their lives from the waves of fire that rolled from piles of dry wood and tanks of paint, and all escaped.

No. 54 Walton Street

Has a Ten-Foot Alley in Rear

It is not necessary that every central lot in Atlanta should have an office building on it. Right in front of the Piedmont Hotel and adjoining the Candler Building you will see one-story buildings that pay well.

At No. 54 Walton street, leave the little dwelling to face alley; put up one-story brick shops on street front; you will be surprised at the rent you can get. The first year will beat government bonds, and it will get better all the time, winding up a high-speed renting proposition on the White Way.

A Man Who Couldn't Be Cured

WHEN I told the gentleman who was here on a visit that he couldn't be cured, he seemed to have more faith in me than ever. I told him, however, that I could give him some relief, but that neither I nor any other physician could cure him. He read one of my talks recently which recited the story of a lady who had her health restored under my treatment, and he thought that possibly I could do something for him. I made a thorough examination, and then frankly told him what I could do and not do. He said I was the first specialist who had ever told him there was no cure for him. All the rest, he pointed out, had promised to cure him and had done nothing except take his money. He was so impressed with the manner in which he was received at my office that he determined to take treatment anyway, but he thoroughly understood that all I could do for him was to give him some relief, and that this would not be permanent. I have said before, and I say again, that honesty is not only the best policy—it is the ONLY policy. He knows now just what to expect from me, and I hope to give him even more relief than he anticipates. Had he been like hundreds of others who have been under my care, and whose cases were readily handled under proper treatment, I would have been just as frank with him, but I would have been just as conservative in my promises. If this gentleman's case had been curable, I am sure I could have effected a cure, because I have been studying and specializing in diseases of men, nervous disorders and chronic diseases for over a third of a century. That's why I KNOW them and know how to treat them. My office hours are 8 to 7; Sundays and holidays, 10 to 1. My monographs are free by mail in plain, sealed wrapper. Consultation free, too.

HORRIBLE DEATH NARROWLY AVERTED

LITTLE TEN-YEAR-OLD ELDRED OSBORN SUFFERED FOR FIVE YEARS, BUT IS RESCUED FROM MISERY BY USING "QUAKER."

At No. 53 Mayson and Turner road lives the family of W. A. Osborn. Little Eldred, whose photo accompanies this article, is the pride of the fond parents. He is eleven years of age and has a loving disposition, admired by all who know him. He had been a sufferer from stomach troubles for over five years, at least that's what he had been treated for by various specialists in this city and Macon, his former home. His appetite was very changeable, but mostly ravenous. He had an intense pain in the stomach and bowels, and a dizziness would attack him often. Headaches and nausea were also frequent. He was listless and dull, and would not play as other children would. He was getting weak and thin, and nothing that was given in the way of medicines would do any good at all. Then, about four years ago, the parents became convinced that their dear boy was the victim of a horrible parasite, and this knowledge almost drove them frantic. The child was treated three times unsuccessfully for the trouble, but still he suffered. The parents had about given up all hope of his ever being cured, when Gray, the Quaker Health Teacher, came to Atlanta. The grand work that he was doing with the Quaker Remedies came to the attention of Mrs. Osborn, who had a talk with Gray. He recommended Quaker Extract, telling her that it had expelled over 4,000 tapeworms in his experience. She procured a treatment, and immediately began giving it to the boy. What was the result? In six days after beginning its use, he was seized with a little dizziness, after which he expelled a nasty, old tapeworm, 35 feet long, head and all, complete. He had then and there gotten rid of the entire cause of all his stomach trouble. He has already gained four pounds in about ten days, and is well and hearty. Think of it, you mothers and fathers, who have little children suffering day after day with their little stomachs—why not allow the famous Quaker Extract to do for you what it has done for many thousands in the past 40 years? Worms of various kinds cause more than 32 per cent of all stomach troubles in children of fifteen years and less. Get a reliable remedy, that has been successful always, and put your little ones on it for awhile. It will never be regretted.

Gray can be seen at the Coursey & Munn drug store, 29 Marietta St., from 9 a. m. till 9 p. m daily, and charges you nothing to explain Quaker to you. Quaker Extract is 6 for $5, 2 for $2.50, $1 a bottle. Oil of Balm, 25c, 5 for $1.

"Swing" of 12,000 Miles.

The "swing" beginning tomorrow will be about 12,000 miles in length. Twenty-four states will be visited and in eighteen the president will speak. In Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Montana, Idaho, California, Oregon, Washington, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin he will spend many of his busiest days. These states are labeled "insurgent" by those who keep the political books. New York, Colorado, Wyoming, Illinois and Pennsylvania will not be slighted, but in those states the president will not have to work so hard. The same political bookkeepers credit them to the "progressive" wing of the republican party. Michigan, which has been called "Taft insurgent," will get a lot of the president's attention.

The trip begins in Boston tomorrow night. Syracuse, N. Y., is the first stop. Washington will see the wind-up in November 1. In addition to the president, Secretary C. D. Hilles, Major A. W. Butt, Dr. Thomas L. Rhoades, the president's physician; two stenographers, three secret service men and nine newspaper men will accompany him.

The train will consist of three Pullman sleepers, a dining car, a baggage car and a day coach.

This Is Taft's Birthday.

Tomorrow will be President Taft's fifty-fourth birthday and he plans to spend the day quietly on the links at Myopia and at Paframatta. Mrs. Taft expects to remain in Beverly through October.

On the eve of the president's departure John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, who attended the ground-breaking ceremonies of the Panama exposition at San Diego and traveled up the Pacific coast, brought him cheerful news today.

Mr. Barrett told the president that the Pacific coast was intensely interested in his visit; that it did not consider it a political pilgrimage, and that everywhere he had stopped the people were anxious to see Mr. Taft once more.
